Central High School is fifty years old this year. To those of us who have been privileged enough to attend Central in 1964, fifty years seems like a long time; but to some it would seem like only yesterday when one could buy a South Bend Tribune for two cents and read about the "magnificent new High School building, adequate to the needs of the city." This new pride of the city sparkled with its newness. There were very few, if any, trophies to grace the shining halls, but to those 834 students that went here in 1914, Central was something very special. It was so special, in fact, that they wanted to leave something as a heritage to those who would take their places five, twenty-five, or even fifty years from then. They chose a statue of Venus, a statue of St. George and a Greek frieze, these almost as immortal as time itself. Since then, these gifts have stood and observed.

In 1914, Central students were fashion-conscious, as was all of America then. Boys came to school in knickers, vests, and high-button shoes, while girls dressed in long-waisted, frilly, ruffled creations and baby doll slippers. Boys were in style if they had pompadours, a hairdo, and girls slaved with curling irons to get nice, long, smooth curls. Kids then were not too much different than we are today. They wanted something new, something different. They wanted to be somebody and live a life of their own.

THE DAY'S BEGINNING

Early risers

A familiar sight

In 1914, when a boy asked a girl for a date, they usually went to a picture show. Bicycles were available, but more often they walked. It cost a whole nickel to see Mary Pickford, the rage of that time. Once inside, patrons were cautioned: "READ THE TITLES TO YOURSELF, Loud reading annoys your neighbors." After the show, or nickelodeon, the girl and boy might go to the ice cream parlor for a nickel cone or some soda pop, and then home where a big swing on the front porch might support a little "sparking." The Chicago Tribune called the generation a "modern, immoral, and fast-moving society," yet those terrible youngsters kept right on growing up to be responsible citizens.

The daily

The memorial to be placed in the New High School building by the class of 1913 consists of a large section copied from the frieze of Parthenon, flanked on the right and left by statues of Venus and St. George respectively, both life size.

The original Parthenon frieze is one of the most magnificent works of the Ancient Greek sculpture. In length it measures 522 feet, of which about 400 feet is in a good state of preservation. It depicts a great procession, comprising all the culture, beauty, and nobility of ancient Athens. This might well be taken as symbolizing the high school preparation for life's procession of events.

Of course, only parts of the great frieze could be used, but those most appropriate were selected. These, with the statue of St. George symbolizing strength, courage, and purity, and that of Venus representing perfect womanhood, form a combination which will be a most pleasant reminder, in years to come, of the class of 1913.

Now, when a boy calls a girl for a date, they might possibly go to a show. Walking is very seldom the means of transportation, since we have access to that wonderful invention, the car. Now it costs ninety-five cents to see Sandra Dee or lots more for Peter, Paul, and Mary. Signs warn us "NO SMOKING, Except in the lobby." After the show, we buzz out to Bonnie Doon's for hamburgers and french fries, or just a coke, and then buzz home where the driveway may see a little parking. We are still the "modern, immoral, and fast-moving society" to many, but we are still growing up to be responsible citizens.

The coordinator, leader, counselor, and friend of the Central student body is Mr. Rupert T. Ferrell. As Central's principal, Mr. Ferrell supports all aspects of the academic life at Central. He is an ardent fan at athletic events. He is an interested spectator at plays and concerts in the Central auditorium. Mr. Ferrell believes in the ability of the students to carry on in the true Central tradition.

Mr. Richard, our assistant principal, does a major part of the important work involved in Central High School. He checks attendance, a thankless and endless job, and issues exit passes. Mr. Richard is the man who determines the future enrollment of Central. With all his duties, he also must be prepared to shoulder the duties of the principal in the event Mr. Ferrell is away.

Mr. Welch, the Junior High principal, is in his second year of duty at Central. His duties are numerous and important in supervising the school. Before becoming Central Junior High School principal, he taught community civics and coached B-team baseball and junior high basketball.

Mr. Harter, the Head Counselor, is one of the busiest men at Central. His main job is to guide seniors to the college and vocation to fit their personalities and abilities. He knows what subjects are needed for most jobs, and helps students to choose wisely.

It is impossible to realize how important the officials of Central High School are, and the many jobs and details which they take care of. Although we may not show it daily in school, the Class of 1964 wishes to thank these men for helping us to become college material and better citizens. Without them there would be no Central High School, no basketball and football games, no extra curricular activities, and, worst of all, no education.

Mrs. Baer, the secretary in Mr. Ferrell's office, discusses office business with Mrs. Hollis, the clerk in the counselor's office, Mrs. York, the clerk in the assistant principal's office, Mrs. Moon, the registrar, and Mrs. Mueller, the clerk in the Junior High office.

PUTTING THE WHEELS

Whether it be taking a temperature or handing out aspirin, Miss Yeamans, the nurse, always accompanies her duties with a smile.

Mrs. Wroblewski rings up the bill for books being purchased by a student in the bookstore.

Mrs. Foulks is always busy during the course of a day treating the many students of Central for their aches and pains.

As Junior High counselor, Mr. Daniels is kept busy preparing the seventh and eighth grade students for high school.

Miss Rushing and Miss Larson, librarians in the Central High School library, keep the card catalogue up-to-date as new books are purchased.

IN MOTION

Mrs. Peterson, eleventh grade counselor, Mr. Judd, tenth grade counselor, and Mrs. Platt, ninth grade counselor, give the students of Central High School excellent guidance which enables them to choose subjects which will aid them in their future vocations.

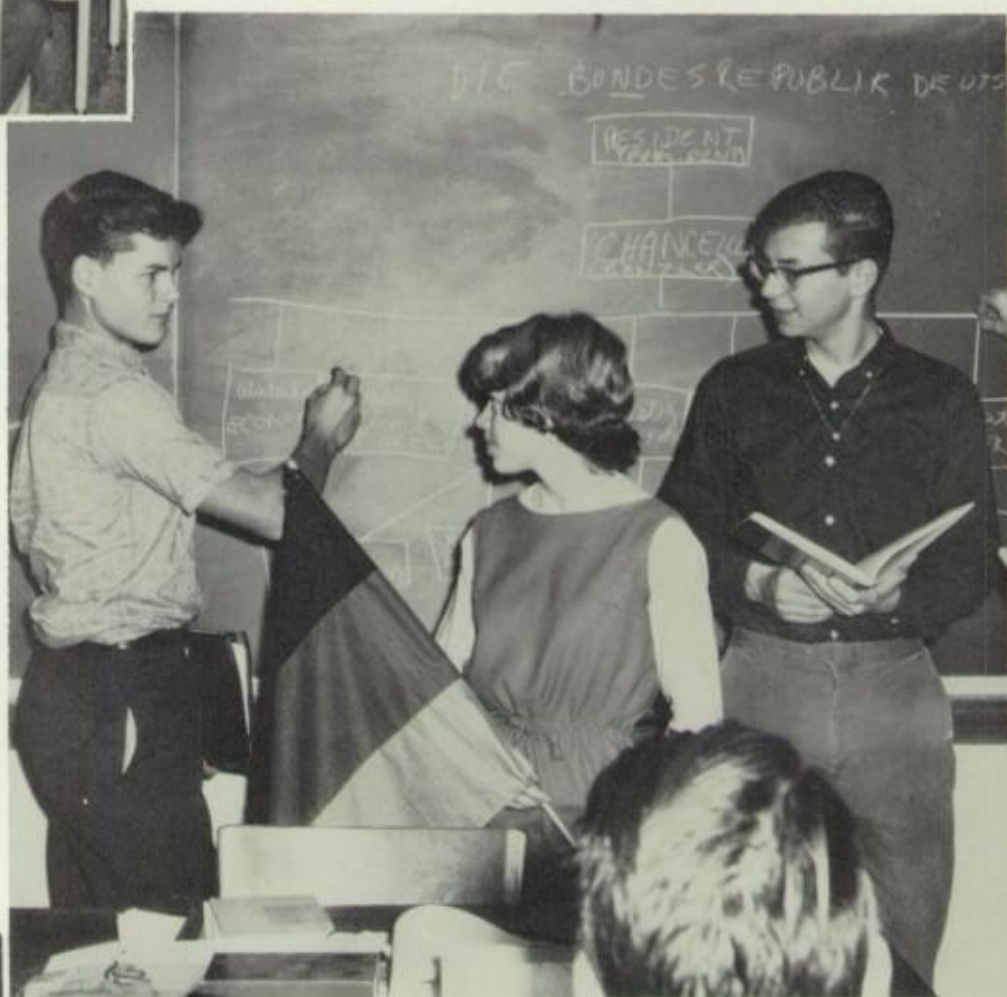

WE DEVELOP OUR ABILITY

The first year Spanish students seem to be absorbed in the study of a new and fascinating language. Spanish is a popular language as seen in Mr. Aguirre's large class.

In Mr. Govern's German class, John Gardner, Peggy Woodard, and Paul Jeziorski explain the structure of the German government to their fellow students.

An important part of a foreign language course in Spanish, German, or French is a knowledge of the country's customs. The singing of songs native to the area in which the language is spoken, a knowledge of dress, and a background in the history of the country make the class even more interesting. Along with the more colorful portions of language study comes grammar and word usage. Much practice in these skills is gained in the language laboratory. Everyday drill sometimes becomes tiresome to a student, but this attitude is soon altered when he realizes how useful a knowledge of a foreign language can be. With better transportation the peoples of the world are drawing nearer, and it is an advantage to be able to communicate with them.

In Miss Ceyak's French class are Sandy Welch, Karalea Cody, Helene Dermer, Holly Alexander, Sherry Stillwagon, Frances Greene, and Woody Romine.

TO COMMUNICATE

Shakespeare is only one of many English authors studied in Miss Bergan's English Literature class. Barb Dupy, Jean Ewing, Marilyn Hertel, and Chris Smith are seen putting on a skit from A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM.

Ask the majority of students at Central about Hamlet, David Copperfield, Kon-Tiki, or Gulliver's Travels; and they will be able to discuss these classics at length. The English teachers acquaint the students with poets and authors whose works cover a broad range of topics. Through the never faltering efforts of these teachers, the uninformed freshmen are transformed into intellectual seniors.

No one would ever call Latin a dead language in room 318. Mr. Herringer's student's are keeping the language of the ancient Romans alive by their continual efforts to master it. Their heads are swarming as they conjugate, translate, and eventually develop into Latin scholars. Gradually the job of learning the endless list of vocabulary words is replaced by an appreciation of the classical value of this age-old language.

Jim Verhaeghe delivers a speech to Mrs. Campbell's senior English Class. Listening are Diane Szekendi, Bob Megyesi, Sandy Emrick, Williana Maeffeld, Chris Nichols, Marilyn Wise and Gwen Dickinson.

Spanish, French, German, and Latin are the languages taught at Central. The teachers of these languages not only stress translation, grammar, and pronunciation, but also the customs of the area of the world in which the language is spoken. The faculty members in this department make excellent use of the study aids available, such as records, movies, tapes, and the language laboratory.

Robert S. Herringer

Three of Central's foreign language teachers, Mr. Herringer, Latin, Mr. Aguirre, Spanish, and Mr. Govern, German, take time out to relax after a busy day.

As English teachers, Miss Waterman, Mr. Campbell, head of the English department, and Miss Bergan guide us through A Tale of Two Cities, The Scarlet Letter, and the study of grammar.

Studying the requirements of the achievement awards program of the National Council of Teachers of English are Miss DeGroot and Mrs. Ballard. Interested in the contest are Linda Harmon and Jeanine Janicki.

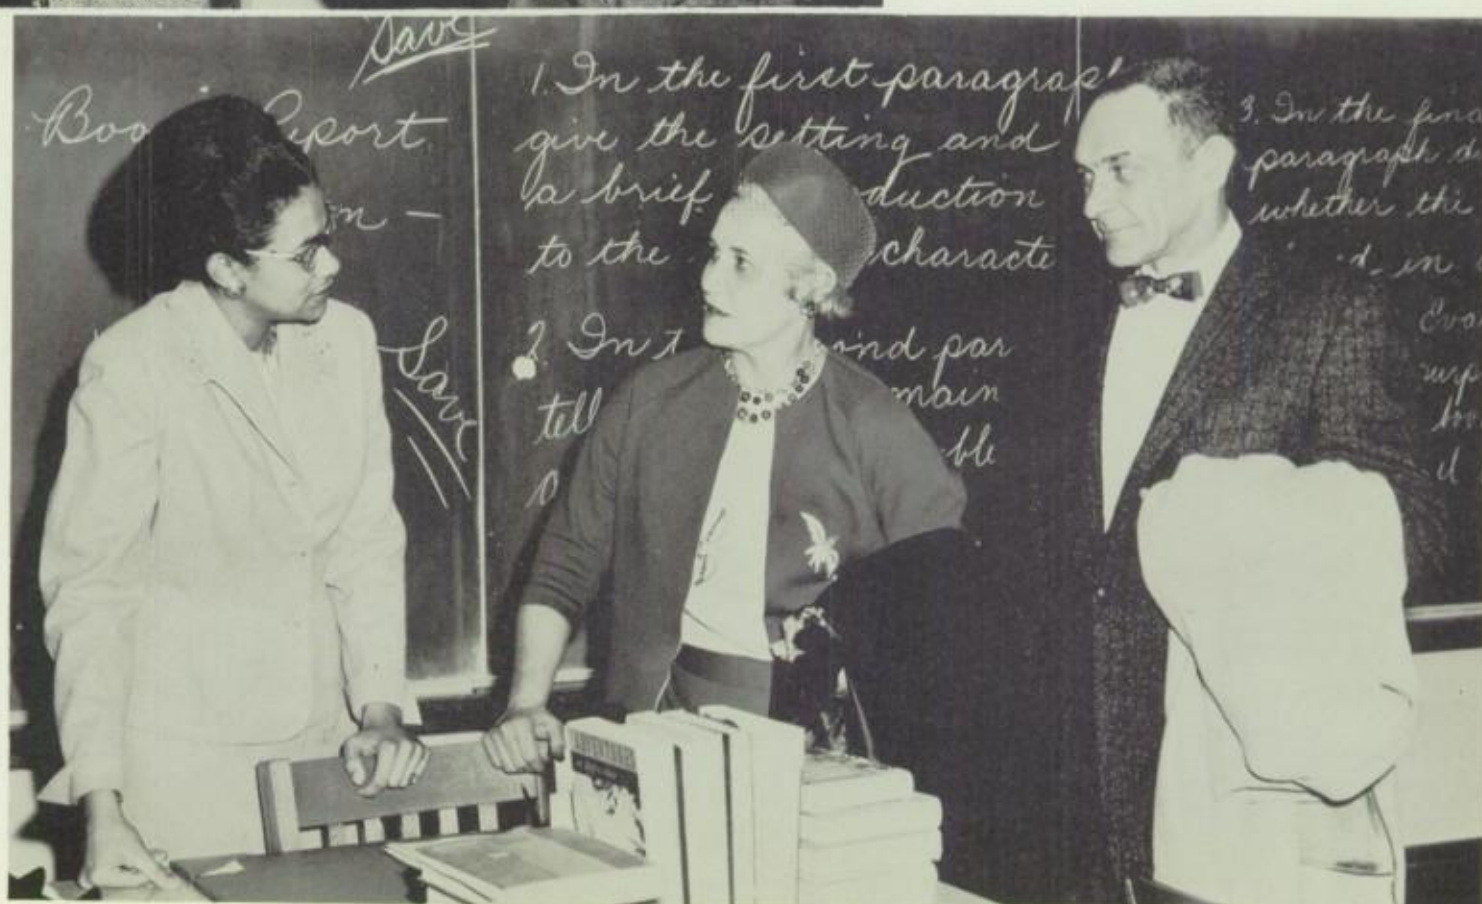

TOMORROW'S LEADERS

Mr. Nelson, Mr. Fuchs, Mr. Merriman, Mr. Daugherty, and Mr. Madden can always find time from their busy days as English teachers to "clown around."

Another duty of Central's many teachers is that of reporting to parents at open house on how their sons and daughters are progressing. Miss Bergan and Mrs. Ballard, English teachers, talk to the never ending line of parents.

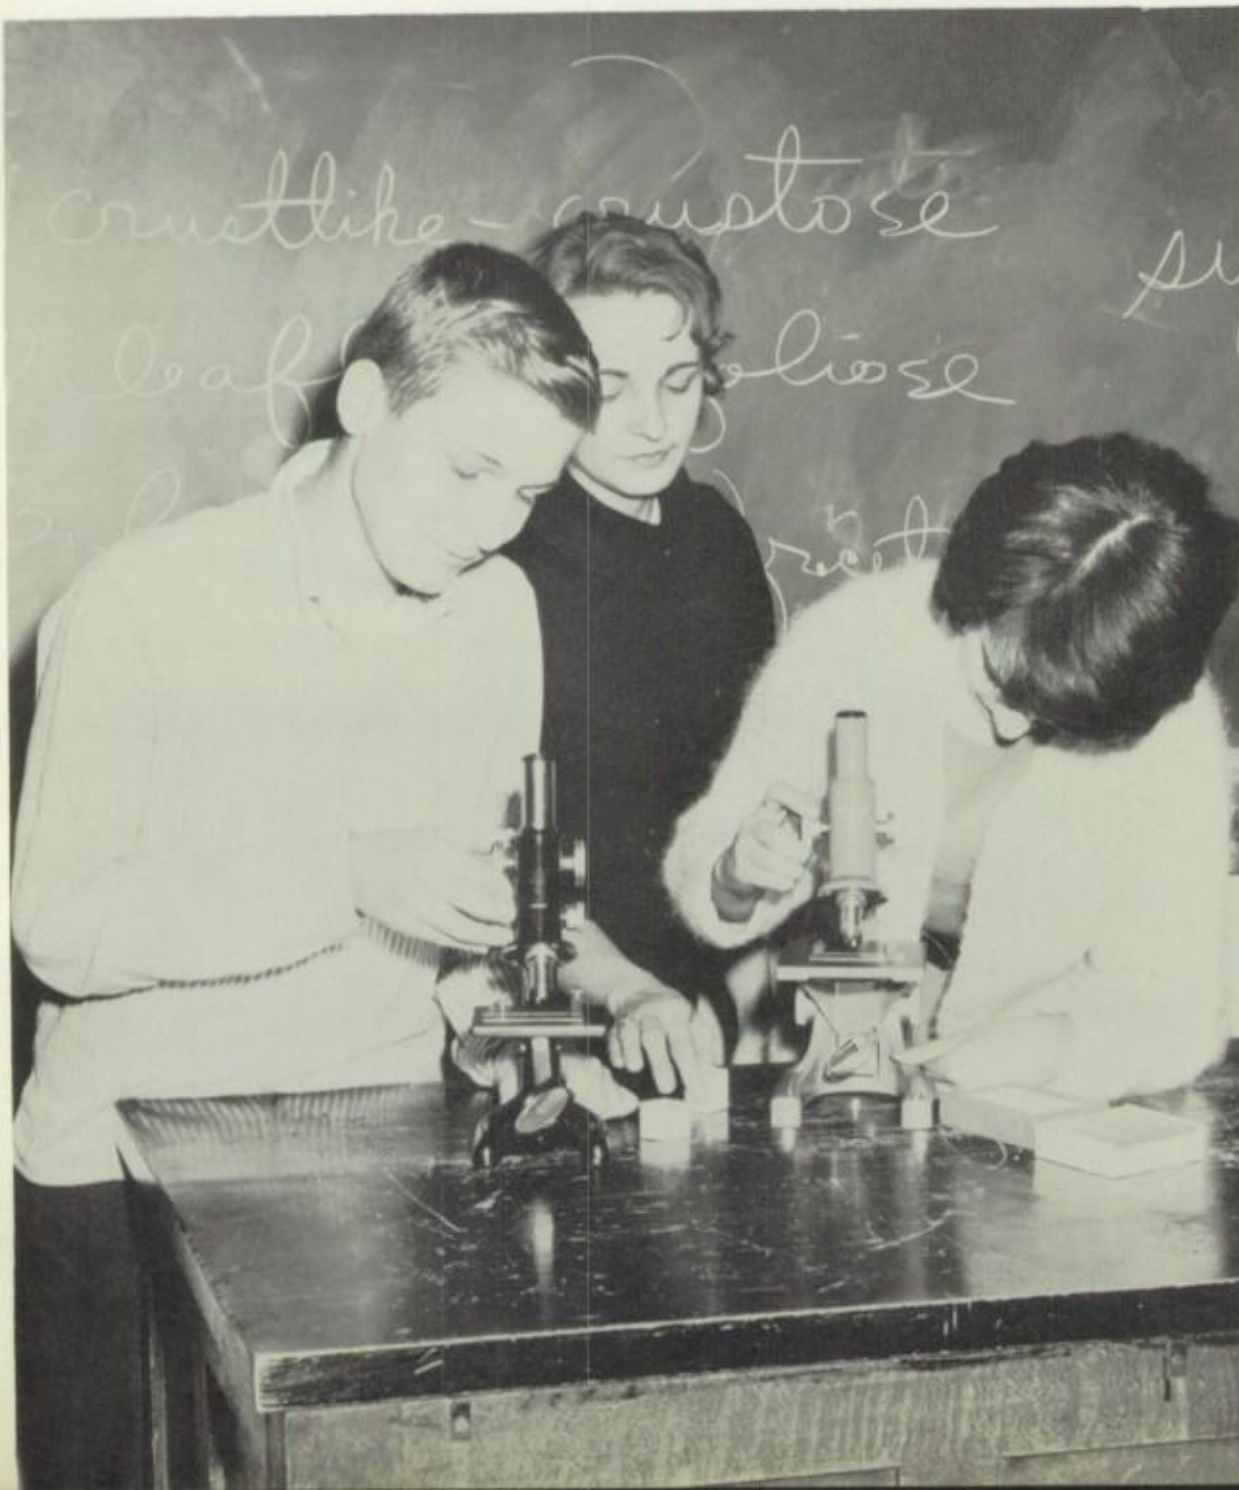

The ability to express views well is an important asset in life. This premise is realized by all the members of Central's English faculty. The English teachers are continuously stressing agreement, tense, and transitions in their effort to improve the ability of Central students in the art of communication. The job of grading all the themes and book reports that are a result of this effort is taken on as a necessary part of the teaching profession.

Richard Zimmerman, Reed Winston, and Mary Slick are seen in physics class experimenting with various types of elementary machines, during sixth hour.

DISSECTING, DECIPHERING

Physics, the study of matter and energy and their relationship, is taught by the newest addition to our science department, Mr. Cox. Physics covers many of the physical concepts about us, and Mr. Cox's course comes complete with demonstrations of bicycle wheel gyroscopes, which proved particularly dangerous to Mr. Cox.

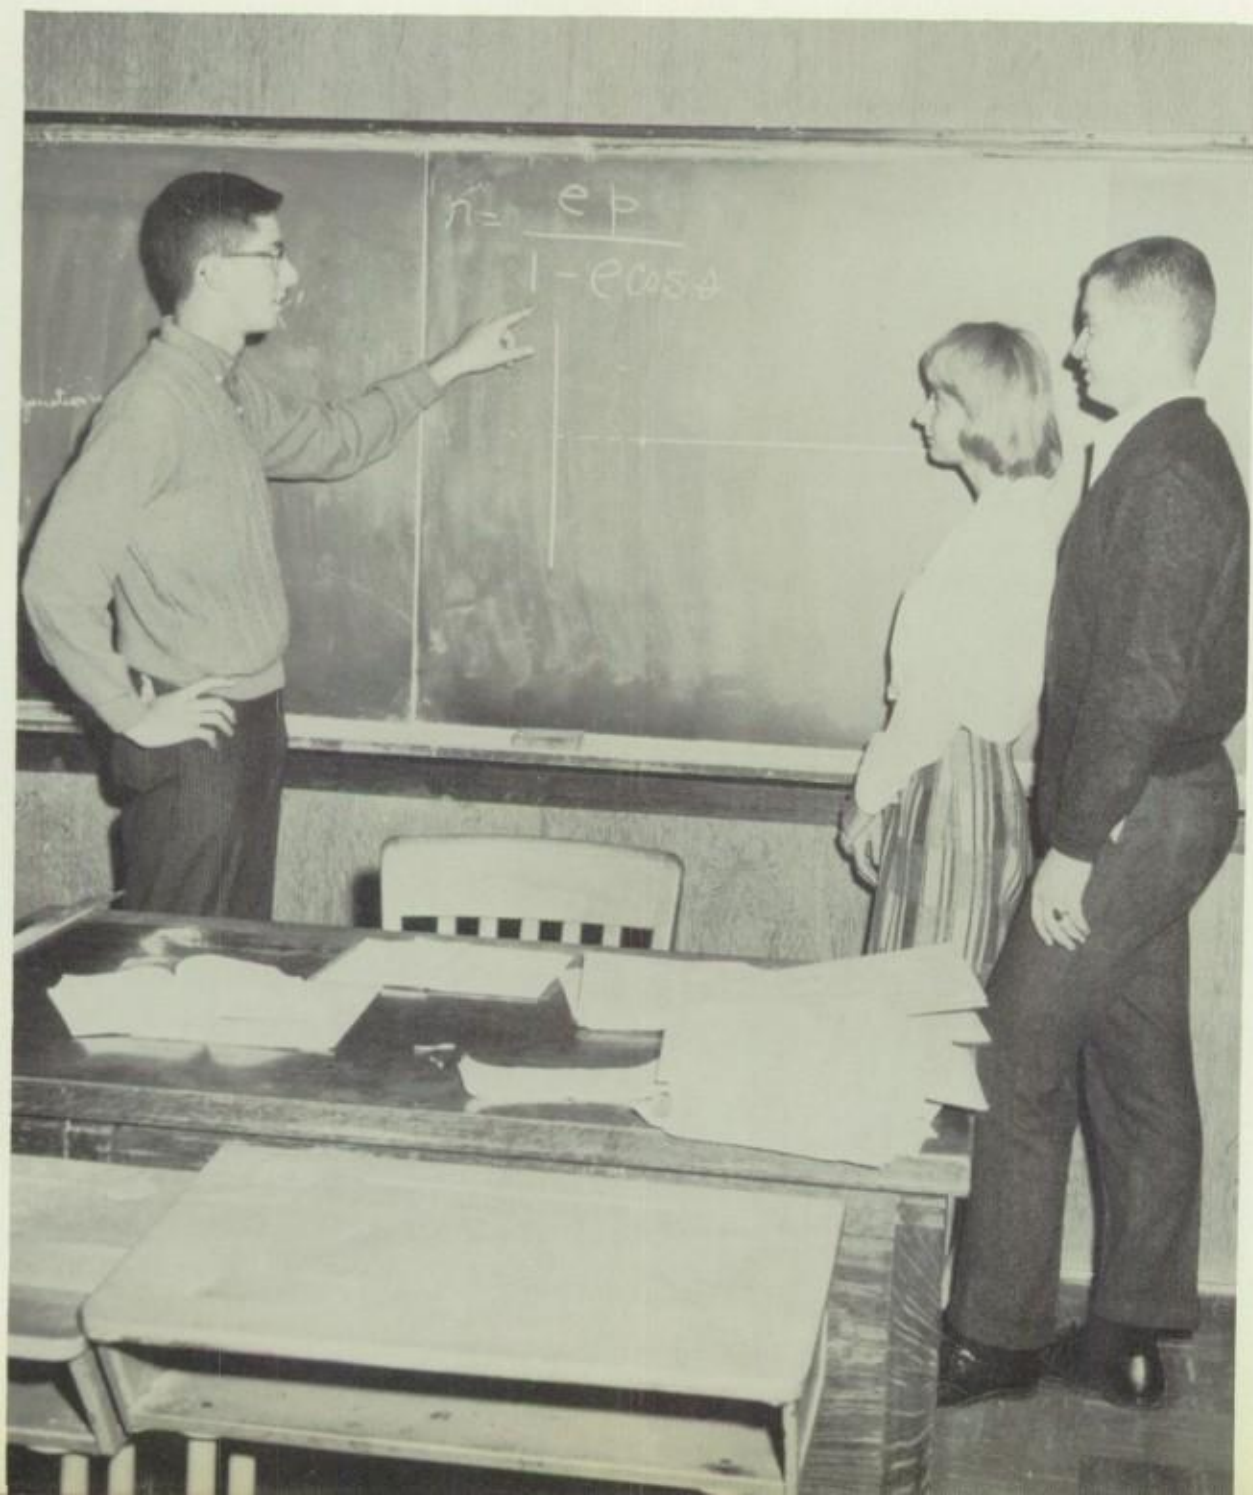

Any student is able to sign up for a course in physics, chemistry, or biology; but a requisite for success in all of these subjects is hard work. In the biology department at Central, students progress from the dissecting of an earthworm to exploring within the carcass of a rabbit. This, however, is only a portion of the course. The processes of life in the plant families, bacteriology, and the effects of radiation on living organisms are discussed in advanced biology.

Chuck Langs and Adrianna Colyvas seem to be very interested with the microscopes in Miss Much's biology class.

Days spent experimenting in the chemistry laboratory seem to be the most interesting to Pam Schafer, Margo Kolecki, Lou Gerecz and Horace Denny.

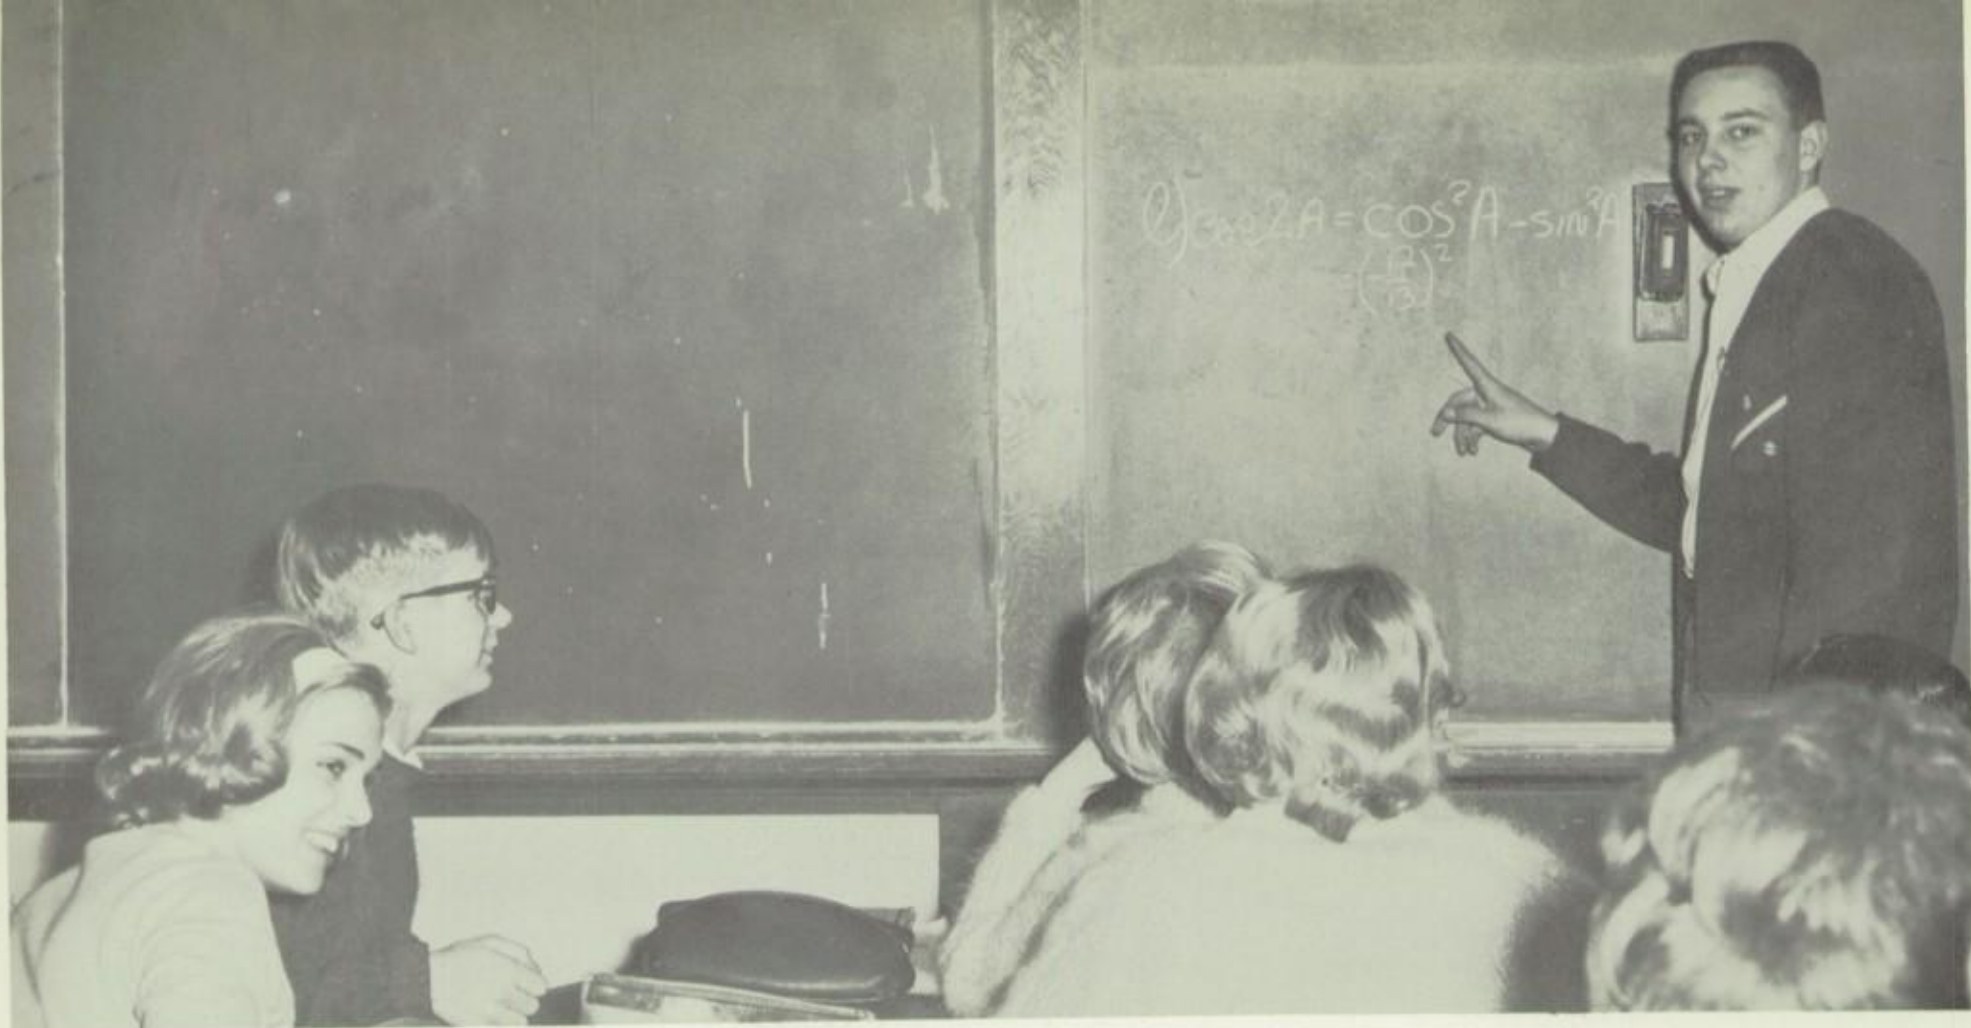

AND DISCOVERING

Chemistry, taught by Mr. Carrier, is often called Central's nearest course to college level work. And Mr. Carrier's course comes complete with valence numbers, exciting analysis experiments, and lectures for which Mr. Carrier uses his own overhead projector.

Closely related to science is mathematics, and analytic geometry is as much a challenge as Avogadro's number. The graphs, formulas, and drawings become intermingled and confusing. It is a necessity for Mr. Wilmore to explain and untangle the scrambled minds of the young mathematicians taking the course. Eventually the relationship between geometry and algebra is understood, and the students are able to advance into other forms of higher mathematics.

Larry Cohen is about to explain how to graph conic equations in polar co-ordinates to Jon Moran and Chris Driscoll in analytic geometry.

"LET NO MAN IGNORANT..."

Miss Semortier often teases her students with Plato's words, "Let no man ignorant of geometry enter these doors." She would prefer threatening, "Let no man ignorant of geometry pass out of these doors." And it is because of the efforts of our outstanding mathematics department that no one passes through our halls without at least an elementary understanding of mathematics. The courses offered in mathematics range from high school math to calculus. This wide variety of courses taught by our high calibre mathematics department, headed by Mr. Wilmore, fulfills the needs of even the most avid math students.

John Wagner explains an advanced algebra problem to Jim Gerhold and Pat Stillwagon under Mr. Hawkins' guidance.

Mr. Wilmore, the head of the math department, uses much of his spare time grading papers.

Besides teaching geometry Mr. Kindy keeps busy as Central's ticket manager.

THE MAN'S

Central's talented mathematics department is headed by Mr. Wilmore. Mr. Wilmore guides Central Students in their explorations through higher math courses. Aiding Mr. Wilmore are the other two senior members of Central's math department, Miss Semortier and Mr. Hawkins. All three have consistently made achievements during the past several years in the Indiana State Math Contests. Through their efforts Central has compiled the best record in the state. Mr. Kindy, Mr. MacKowiak, Mr. Bendit, Mr. Harris, and Mr. McNarney fill out the remainder of our math faculty.

THINKING COURSE

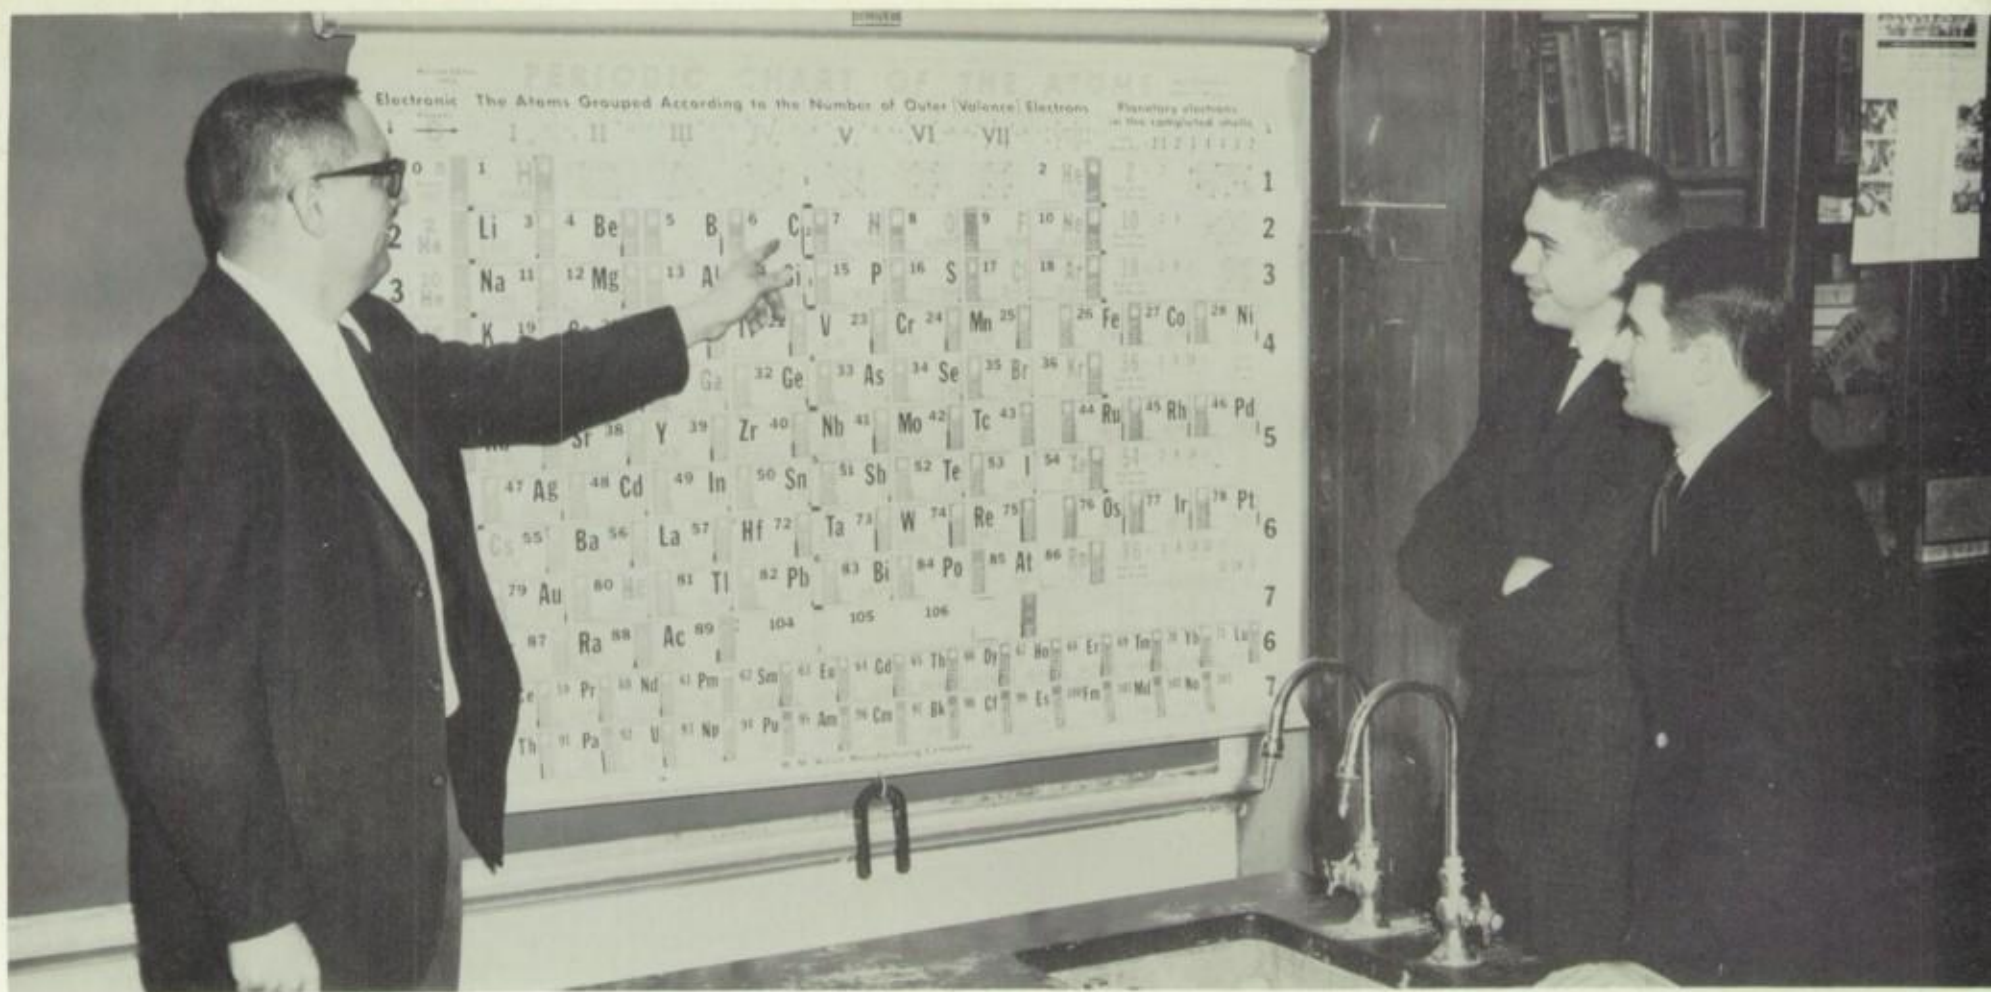

Mr. Kacarab, Mr. Harris, and Mr. Bendit relax after a long day of teaching math and discuss some of their classes.

Mr. MacKowiak, Mr. Hawkins, and Miss Semortier enjoy a discussion of a problem in math.

THEY INSPIRE FUTURE SCIENTISTS

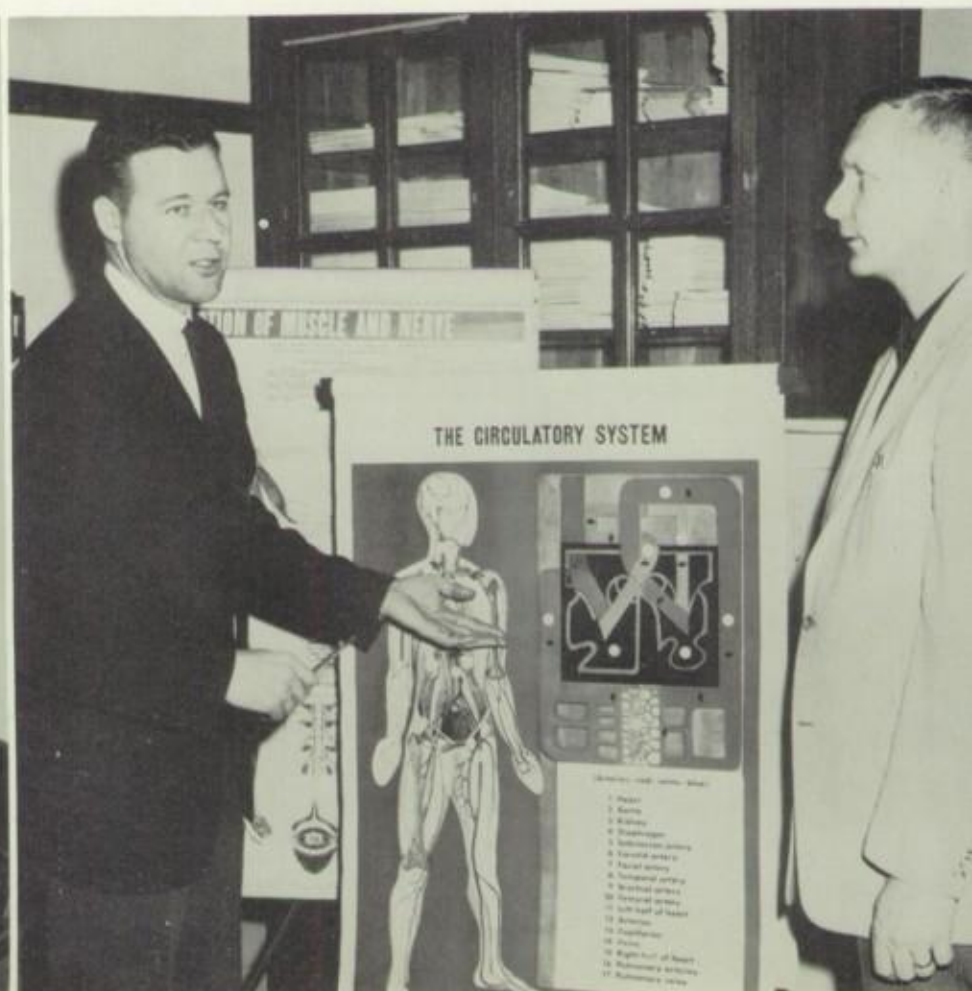

Our chemistry teacher, Mr. Carrier, discusses the chart of atoms with two other science teachers, Mr. Sumpter and Mr. Cox.

Central has a new science department head this year in Mr. Ell. Besides his teaching duties, Mr. Ell guides Central's entrants in the local and regional science fairs. Central also has a new physics instructor, Mr. Cox. Because of his fascinating, unpredictable experiments he will be long remembered by those seniors privileged to enjoy his course in physics.

Our chemistry teacher, Mr. Carrier, is met by a large number of Central's juniors and seniors. They all enjoy their experiences with this towering, but genial chemistry teacher. Filling out the remainder of our science faculty are Mr. Phelps and Mr. Wolter, as well as two other new teachers, Miss Much and our swimming coach, Mr. Saltz.

Mr. Ell, head of the science department, explains the coming science fair to other science teachers, Mr. Phelps, Miss Much, and Mr. Wolter.

Besides coaching varsity and B-team basketball, Mr. Powers and Mr. Emrick also teach Health, which is a required course at Central.

BUSINESS IS ESSENTIAL

Throughout the past fifty years, the commercial courses have made up a major portion of the Central High School curriculum. The inclusion of these courses such as typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping has served to broaden the variety of possibilities for career training which are open to Central students. While many take only one or two elementary courses in order to acquire some specific skill, such as typing, another large portion of the student body majors in business. Mr. Burger, Mr. Cole, Mr. Williams, Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Gill and Miss Heuman make up an important part of our faculty. The interesting and very practical courses which they teach are an essential part of our curriculum.

Julie Wiltfong demonstrates how to operate the switchboard to business students Judy VanGundy, Mary Yuhasz and Melva Joseph. Mrs. Baer is their supervisor.

Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Hodges, and Hiss Heuman find time for a laugh after a hard day of teaching shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping.

THEY PREPARE ASPIRING SECRETARIES

The efficiency of students in typing, shorthand, or bookkeeping is much improved after Central's business education teachers have passed on their knowledge. Soon students appear as professionals in the field of business arts because of the work of a capable teaching staff.

The telephone plays an important part in the work of Mr. Williams, Mr. Burger, and Mr. Cole as they help students in their business classes find jobs.

Mr. Catanzarite, Mr. Hoyer, and Mr. Smith compare their U. S. History classes.

AND RELATE EXCITING HISTORY

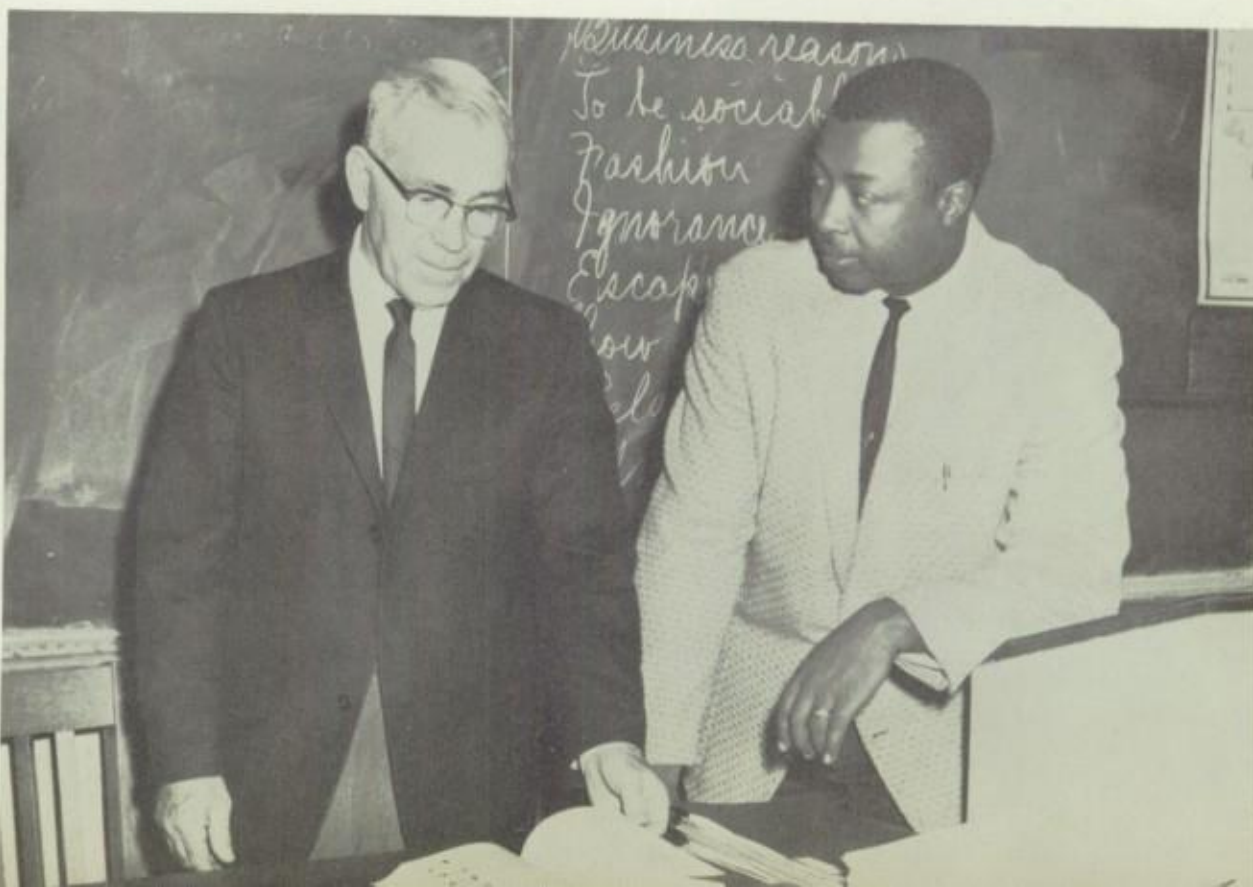

Miss Hatt displays many of the pictures which aid her students in understanding their history course better.

J. Hatt

A future mechanic, a future doctor, and a future president of the U.S. all have a need for study in one of the branches of Central's social studies department. Just in everyday living we come up against names and situations which remind us of something we learned in Miss Hatt's or Mr. Hoyer's world history classes. The Industrial Revolution, the history of man and medicine, and the history of the U.S. all have direct bearing on our lives. Central's civics, history, and government classes are all very important and worthwhile.

As head of the social studies department Mr. Kuhny often gives advice to other teachers such as Mr. Gilkey.

Don Chase, Steve Mitchell, Gary Weinstein and Irene Theodosiou are reading current material in their sociology class.

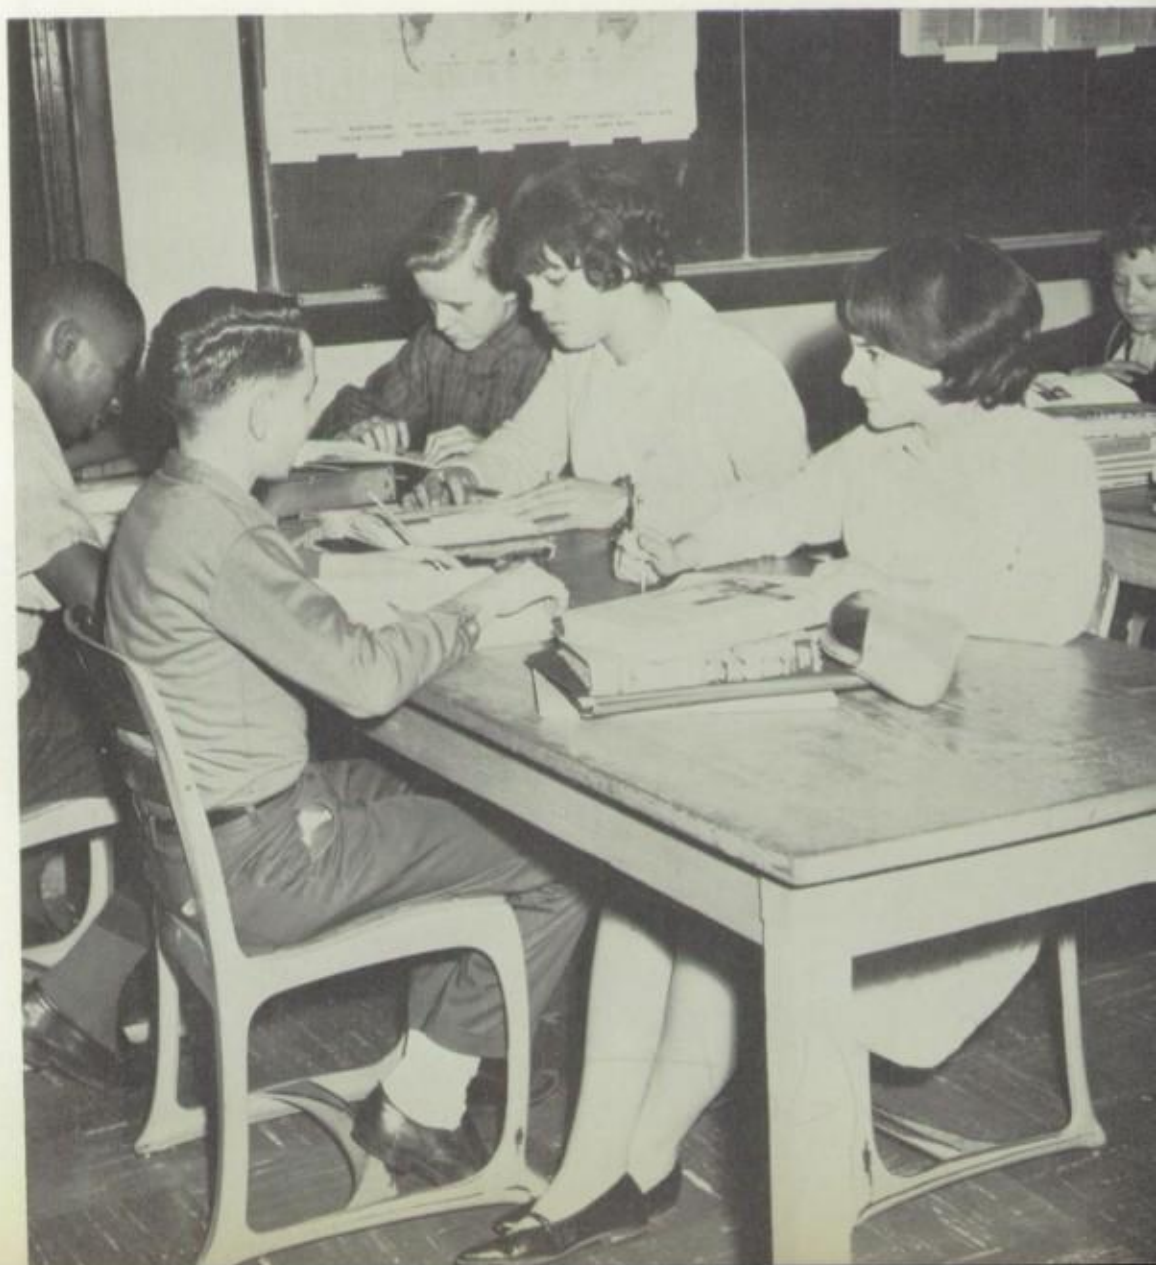

Discussions after a U. S. History class are common to students Pat Gilfillen, Norma Marks, Mr. Hoyer, Tom Douglas, Miss Hamilton, Barry Johnson and Peg Woodard.

WE LEARN ABOUT OUR WORLD IN SOCIAL STUDIES

The Central social studies department exposes students to the problems of the past and present world situations, and the solutions to difficulties they might encounter in later life. Students are greatly helped by a course in community civics which is required of all freshmen. An entire unit of work is devoted to acquainting the new students with the opportunities available at Central. Community civics also includes the investigation of various career opportunities.

A class in world history or U.S. history enlightens interested Centralites on the growth of civilization. Other subjects offered by the social studies department are American government, economics, sociology and international relations.

Bill Harris, Ken Bethel, Jim Douglas, Liz Davis, Adrianna Colyvas and Howard Krausman work industriously on their group report in Civics class.

Working in their kitchen unit preparing something delectable to eat are Michaelleen Kalmer, Sharon Sniadecki, and Karen Manning.

Alma Johnson, Susie Carr, and Charlotte Chism measure and pin patterns to material in their clothing class.

PRACTICAL COURSES PREPARE US FOR TOMORROW

Many students begin to specialize in certain fields while still in high school. Courses are offered in printing, woodworking, auto mechanics, mechanical drawing and electricity to aid these students. The future architects and engineers can be seen concentrating over their draft boards. The auto mechanics of tomorrow can be viewed dressed in overalls and covered with grease from working in the auto shop. Pieces of furniture can be found in the wood shop which were made by students.

A good homemaker should be adept at cooking and sewing, and Central again helps to fulfill this requirement for future happiness. The hum of sewing machines can be heard and the aroma of savory foods can be smelled in the halls.

Steve Van Rie and Bruce Alexander are in auto shop working on a car engine, during fifth hour class.

In teaching art Mr. Marvin and Mrs. Butcher enjoy looking at the paintings and drawings of their students.

Because of illness of Mrs. Lean, Mrs. Wills took over the tedious job of operating the girls' study hall.

*Dear Jo Ann: Do all the things thy heart bids thee do, think well before you act, after so doing never

ALL-CONFERENCE PICKS ARE RESULTS OF

Central's 1963 football team was guided to a fine 7-2 record under the able direction of our new head coach, Ed Szucs, and his veteran staff. This record enabled Central to tie for second place in the conference, only one game behind mythical state champions Elkhart. Although this finish was a bit disappointing to the many fans who felt, before the season started, that this might have been the year for a state championship, our team finished high in a powerful conference and ranked among the state's top ten teams. Both the coaches and the players deserve praise for the hard work they put forth in order to produce such a fine, highly ranked team.

Central's fans saw the initiation of the Labor Day Jamboree, in which an extra point won the quarter against Adams, and a last second pass by George Basker brought Central near Elkhart's goal as the quarter ended in a scoreless tie.

In their first regular season game, the Bears dropped a closely contested battle to St. Joseph's. In the closing minutes, four desperation passes from the St. Joe 25 yard line failed, and Central ended up on the short end of a 13-12 score.

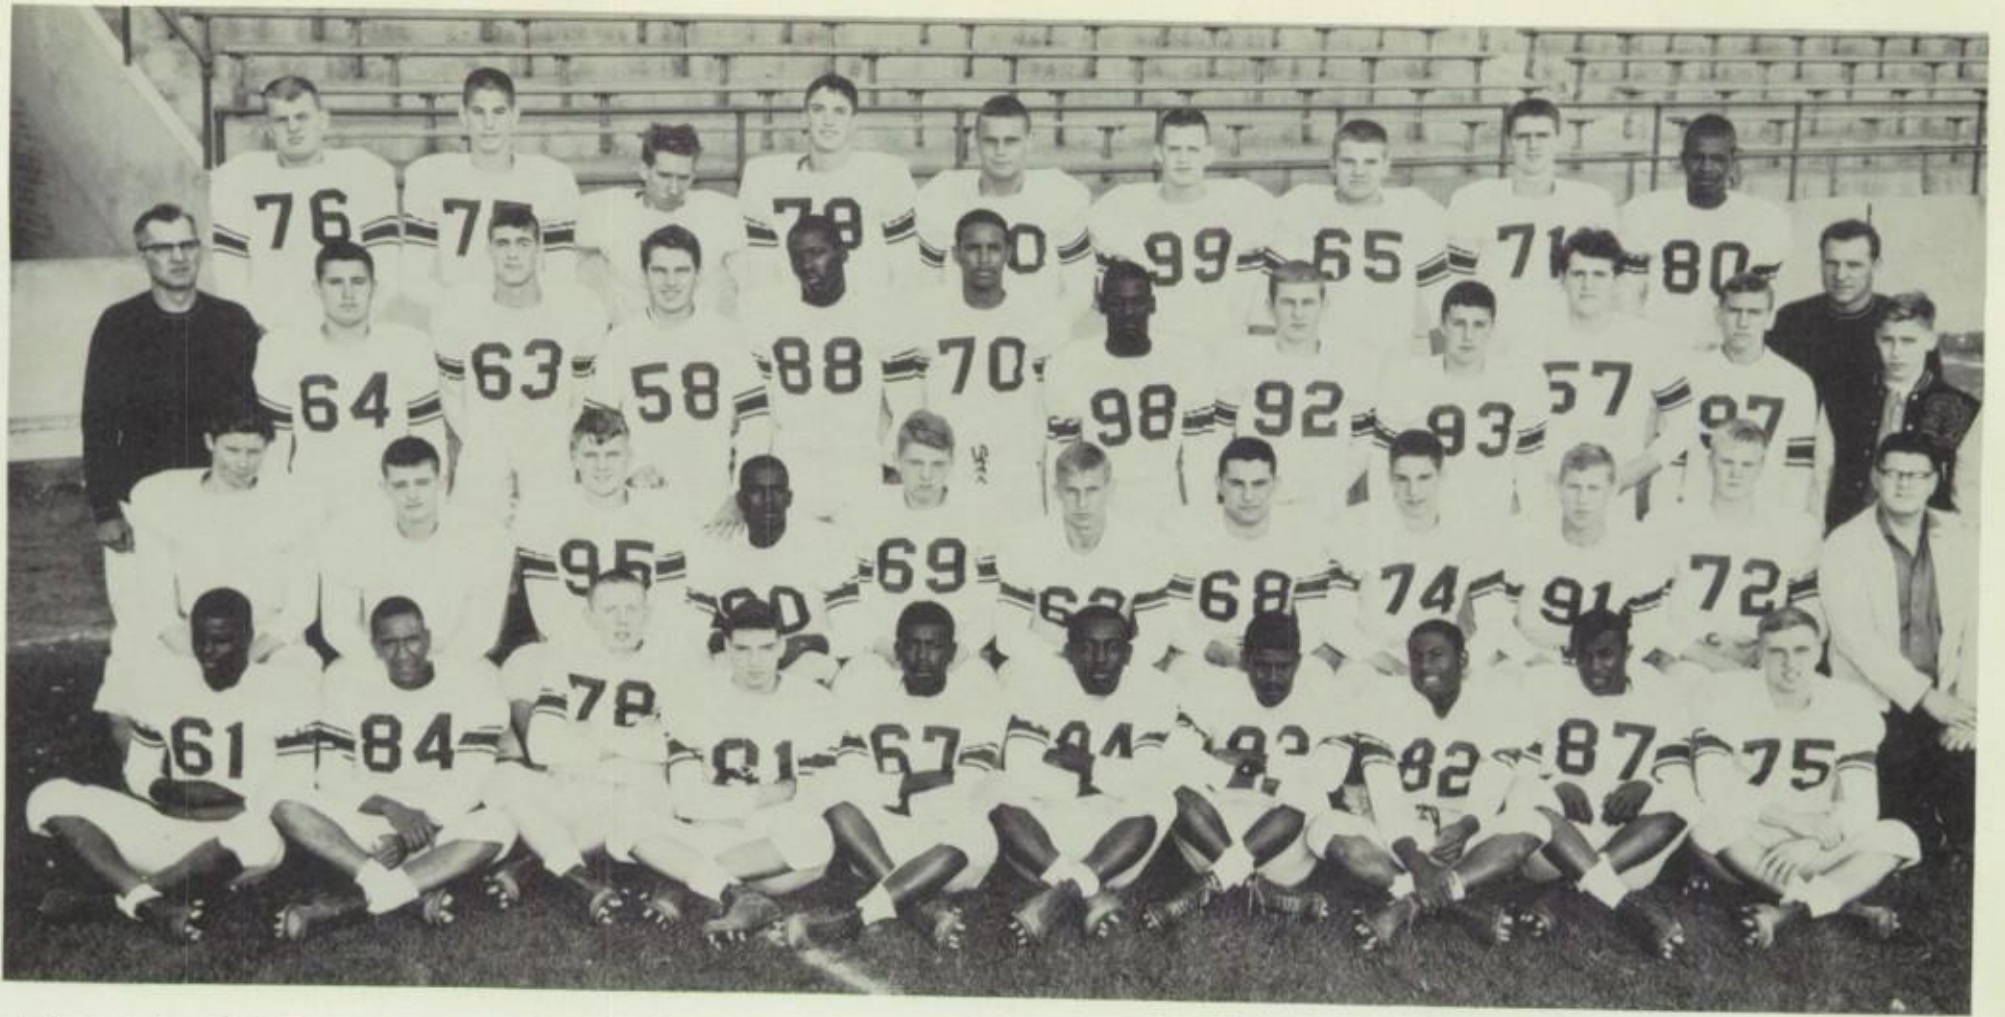

With the Mishawaka game, Central came into its own. Although the game's only touchdown came in the fourth quarter, the Bears dominated the offensive game and were repeatedly deep in Cavemen territory.

After this game, the Bruins rolled through six consecutive opponents. The first was the hardest, as it took a touchdown on a punt return to upend Michigan City. The defense was remarkable through Central's seven victories, and two foes were held to negative rushing yardage.

The climax of the season came on Elkhart's snowy, wind-swept Rice Field, where the conference championship was decided. Central's offense often stalled, many times due to the fine defense of Elkhart. It was a tough, frustrating game, and it ended 23-7, in favor of Elkhart.

All in all, it was an impressive debut for Coach Szucs and the the versatile "I" formation offense.

X-MEN STRUGGLE THROUGH REBUILDING YEAR

CROSS COUNTRY

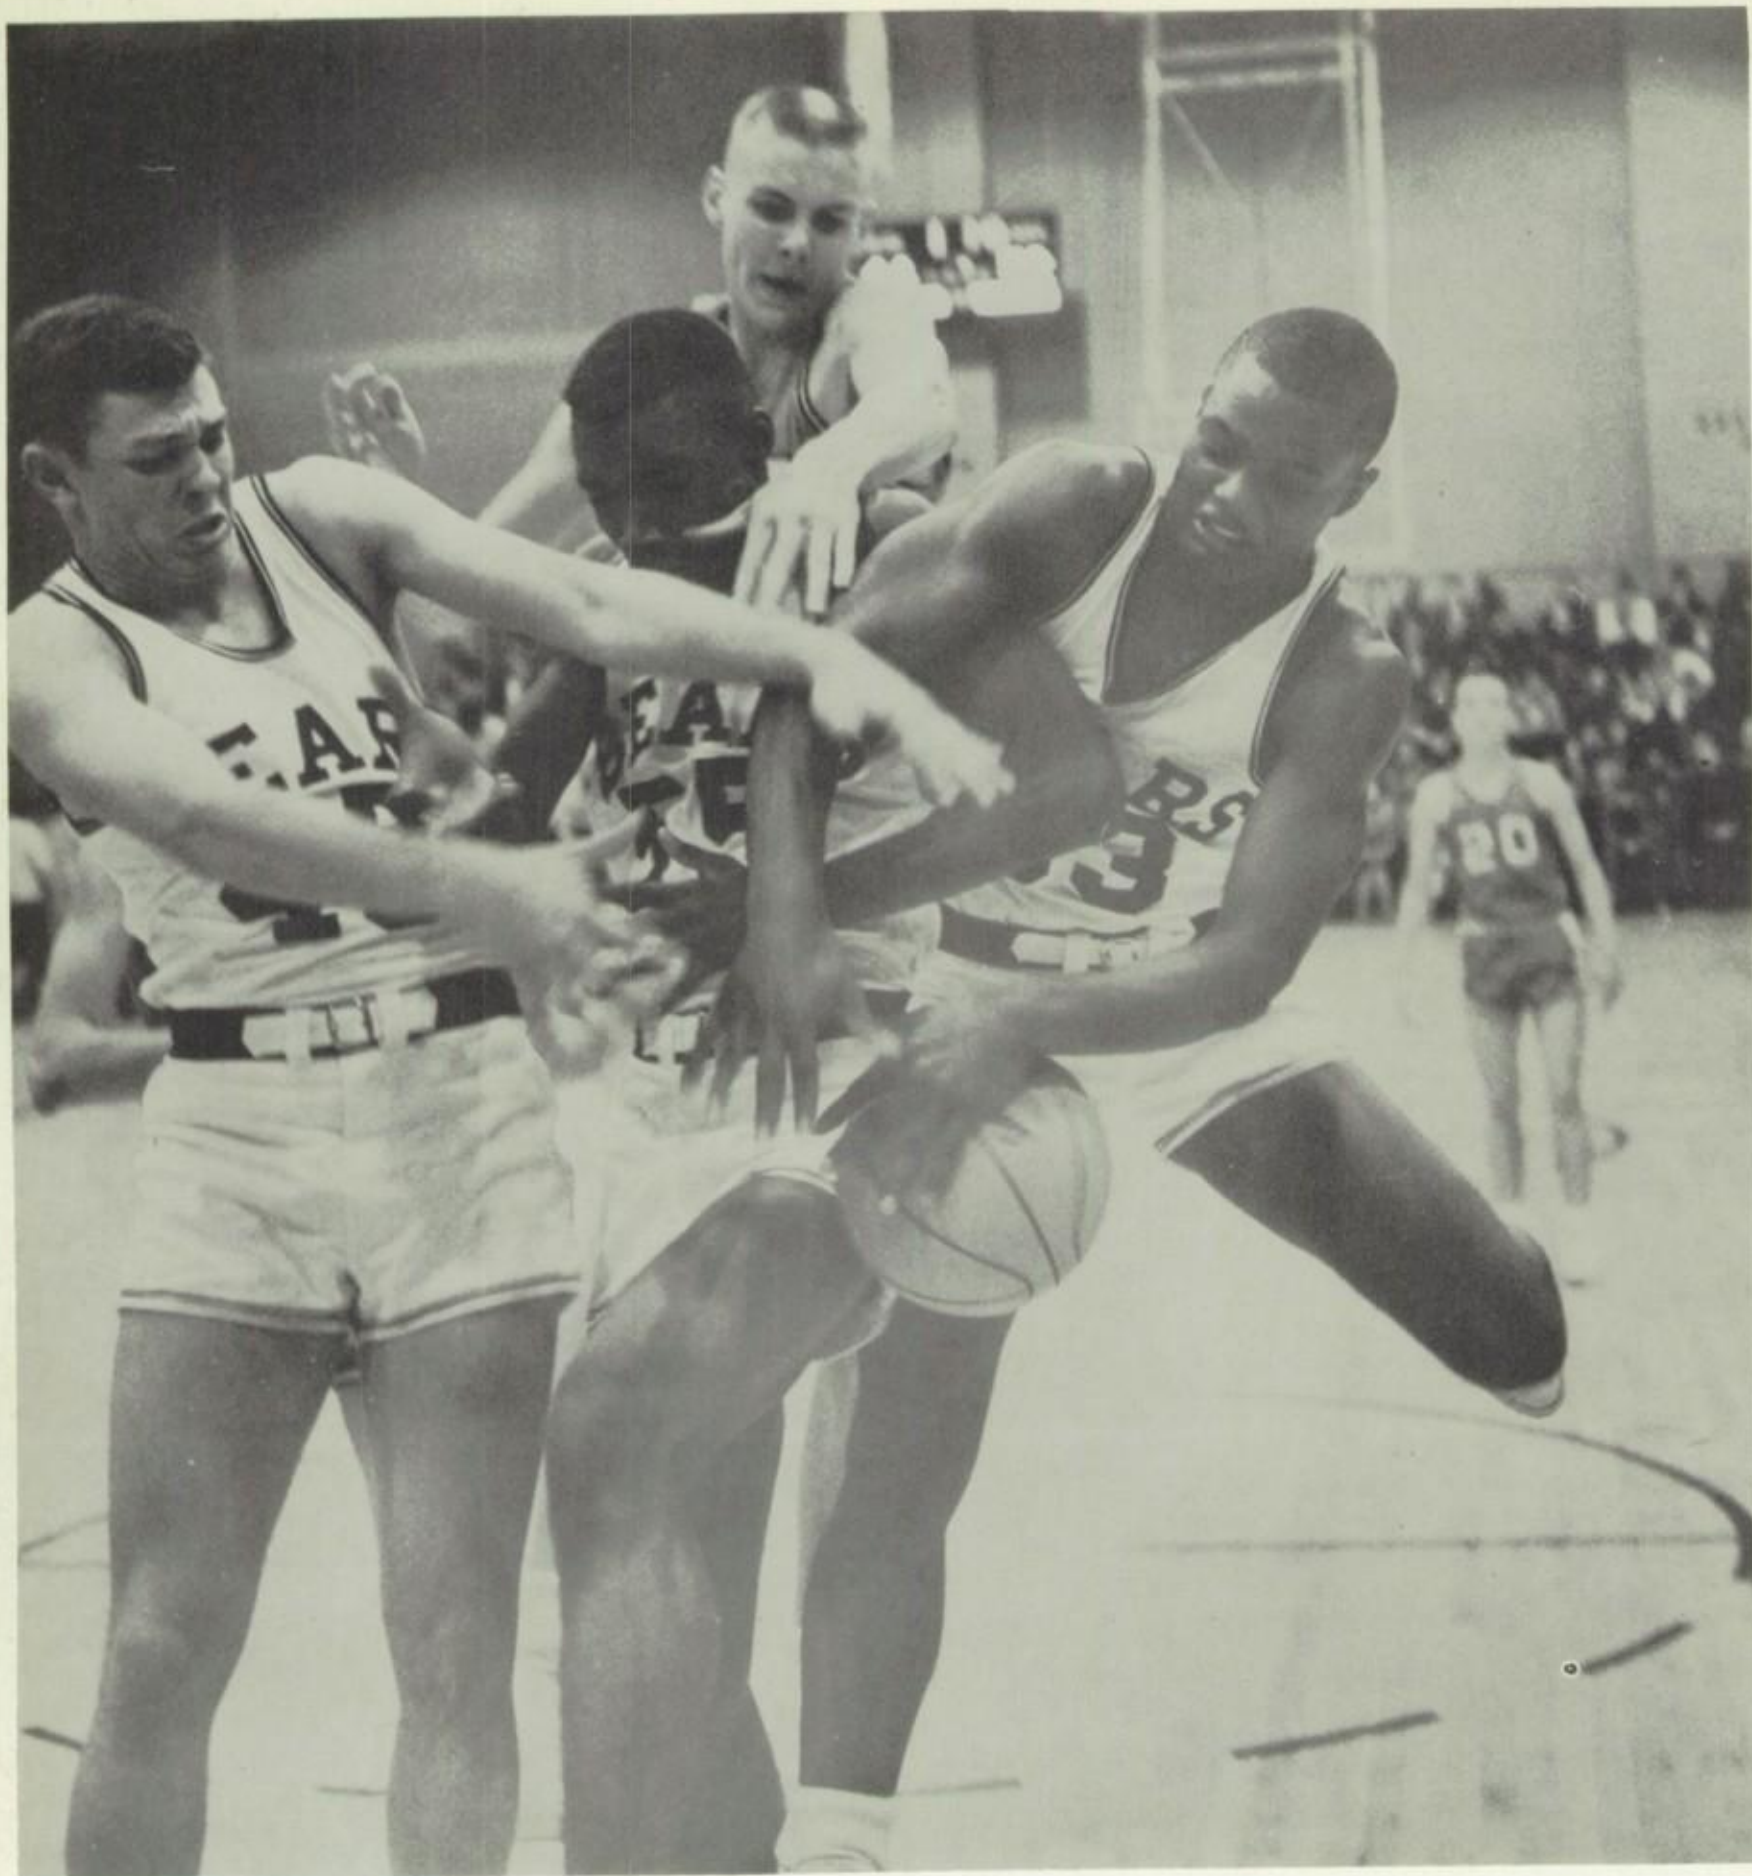

In 1963, an inexperienced cross country squad attempted to better last season's 8-7 record. Even though the Bears could manage only four victories while being handed thirteen defeats by steady competition, it is hoped that important experience was gained. The only returning letterman, Jerry Ward, proved to be very valuable again this year by capturing seven first places.

Ward's best time for the two mile run was 10 minutes 21 seconds, the best time for the team. The captain of this year's team, Carter Wolf, was also praised by Coach Bill Schlundt and received the Most Valuable Player award. Next year's team will have four returning lettermen. These boys are Mike Jackson, Cal Maefteld, Mike Johns, and Ward.

Karl Simon, Leon Davis, and Lodis Rhodes scramble for a rebound in the St. Joe game.

The 1964 Basketball season, begun as a rebuilding effort, ended with a Sectional triumph and very high hopes for the future. With three sophomores often on the first string, and the incomparable Mike Warren and Jimmy Ward, the Bears scrambled to an 11-8 seasonal mark, against perennially stiff competition, gaining the runner-up position in the conference. Richard Smith and Leon Davis, a pair of 6'2" sophomores who found themselves outbounded consistently at the outset of the season, gained enough strength and skill throughout the year to prompt great hopes for the '64-'65 campaign. Sophomore Karl Simon, a frequent starter, began adding scoring to playmaking in the final contests; his scoring spurt against Elkhart in the Regional Championship game nearly brought victory within grasp. The mainstays of the club, Warren and Ward, were called by some the best pair of guards in the state. Warren's fabulous playmaking and his 23-plus average, highlighted by a 42 point performance against Columbia City, sent a host of college scouts clamoring at Mike's door. 5'11" Ward's amazing rebounding and clutch shooting kept Central ahead in a number of victories. Jimmy has also received several college offers. Senior sixth man Jim Verhaeghe, besides being a fine playmaker, displayed the desire worthy of a champion whenever he played.

Greg Henderson, 6'4" Junior center, was promoted from bench-ed B-teamer to varsity starter at the end of the season and rose to occasion often at tourney time to snare rebounds and whip in badly needed buckets. He is another reason for the hopes of a successful 1965.

Jim Gerhold, Ron Seifert, John Ferrell, Greg Jackson, and Wade Fuller completed the varsity squad.

The state meet February 22 marked the close of Central's 1963-64 swimming season and the end of high school competition for six seniors, Denny Geyer, Bob Dosmann, Tom Stites, Don Chase, Steve Tankersley, and Tom Veith.

A fourth place point total in the state meet was largely due to the splendid showing of those senior boys. The 200-yard medley relay team of Terry Daoust, Tankersley, Chase, and Stites finished fourth. Veith placed fourth in the 200-yard free-style and Geyer finished third in the 200-yard individual medley. Geyer also copped sixth place in the 100-yard butterfly. Veith and Dosmann finished fifth and sixth respectively in the 100-yard free-style. The Bears' best effort came with a second place finish of the 200-yard free-style relay team which was composed of Dosmann, Stites, Chase, and Pat Williams. They bettered the previous state mark in this event.

Under first year coach, Bob Saltz, the swimmers lost only three meets and finished third in the conference. They won the City Swimming Meet, placed second in the Conference Meet, third in the Sectional Meet, and ended with a fourth in the State Meet.

As regular dual meet competition drew to a close in the 1963-64 wrestling season, the Central record showed 9 victories and 3 defeats. These results were, no doubt, very satisfactory to Mr. McNarney, this having been his first of what are hoped will be many successful years as head coach. The squad also retained Holiday Tourney, Conference, and Sectional titles and then added the Regional Championship. The Bears had rolled over 8 consecutive opponents in regular season dueling before being toppled by the eventual state champion Southport team. Thereafter, defeat was forced again upon the Bears in two of their final three outings.

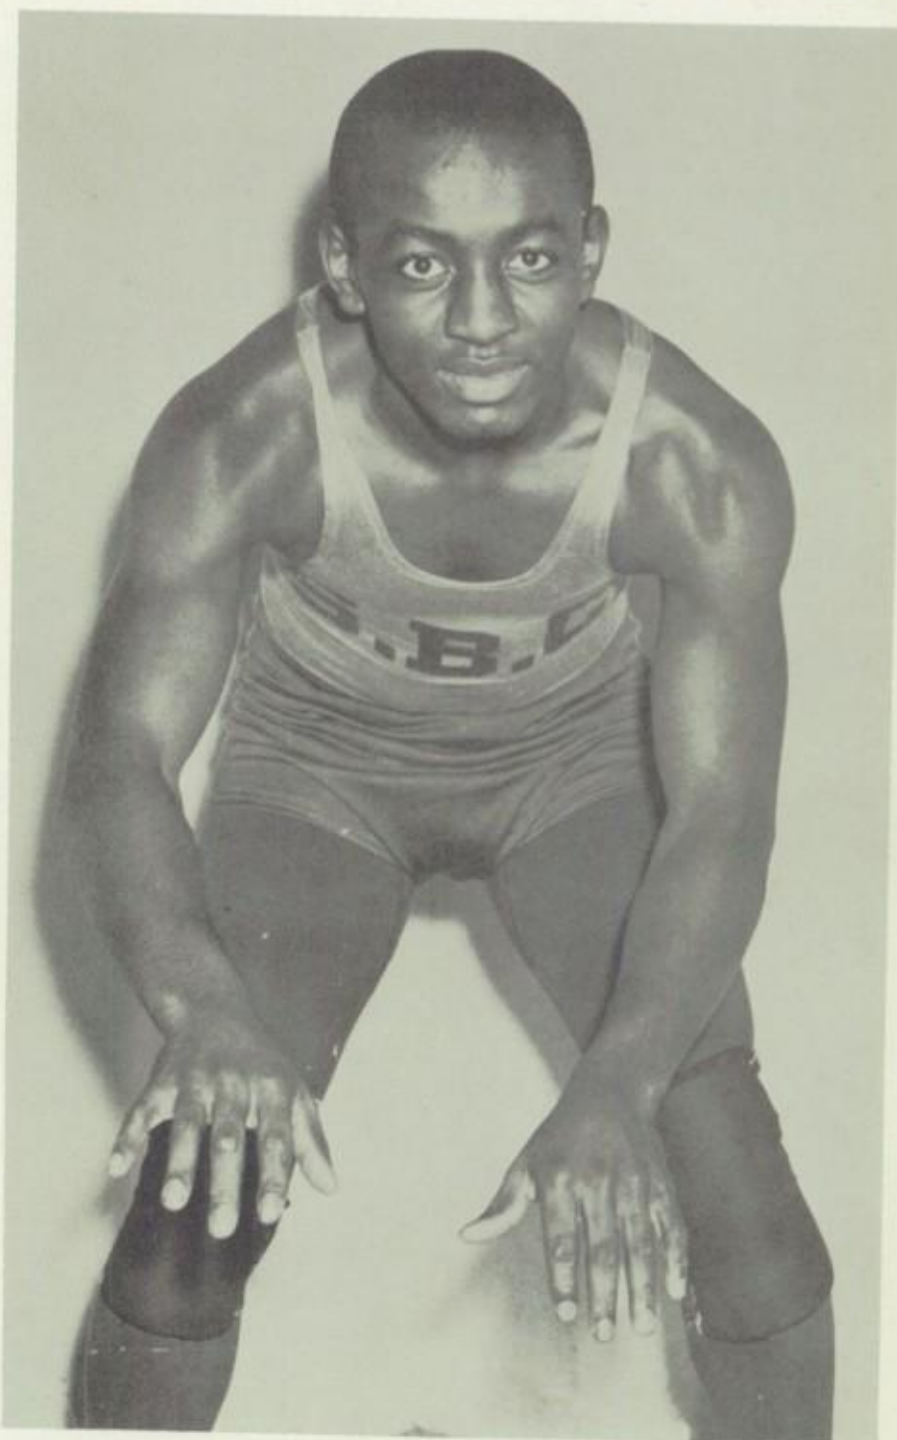

Responsibility for the over-all success lay in large part with five senior grapplers. The quintet, with individual won-loss records, consisted of Cleaster Price, 16-5; Ollie Robinson, 17-1-1 with a second-place down state; Fred Baldwin, 17-3-2; Wilkins Stafford, 14-7; and Steve Mitchell, 17-3. A consistently winning junior was Charles Price, who took a third-place in state competition. Come next season, much will be expected from him as well as from the other returning lettermen, Phil Skinner, John Martin, Eric Ackerman, Jim Wilder, and Jim Plump, all of whom performed well throughout the year.

Senior Ollie Robinson was state runnerup in the 127 lbs. division.

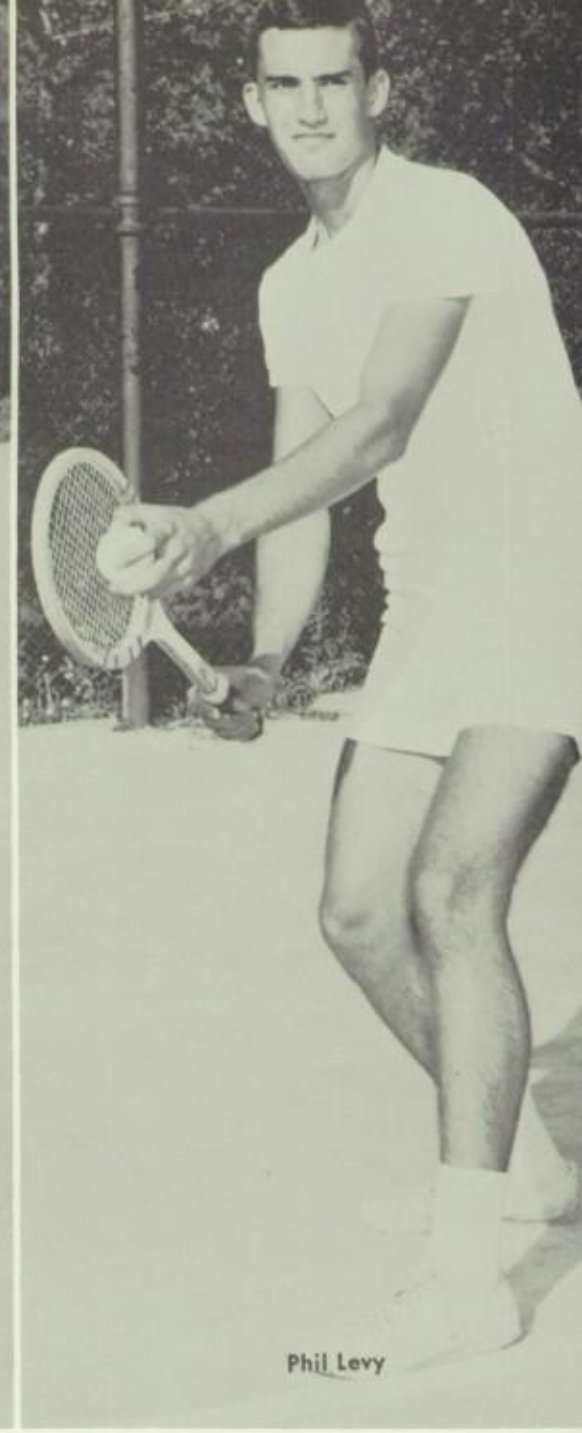

Charles Price, a junior at 145 lbs., finished 3rd in the state.

Manned by a quartet of seniors, the Central tennis team netted a 5-3 Conference record for 1963. The squad began play with two victories, and recorded another pair by soundly defeating conference rivals, Riley and Mishawaka, in the final two matches. However defeat was handed the Bears on three occasions during the intervening weeks. The varsity consisted of captain, Larry Cohen, who won the Most Valuable Player Award, Mike Kaman, Phil Levy and John Fredericks. Coach Powers is left with a very challenging rebuilding problem, since all four positions will be vacated by graduation.

The 1963 Central baseball team, only breaking even after the first eight games, won seven out of the last nine to finish with an 11-6 season record and a 5-3 conference mark — good for third place.

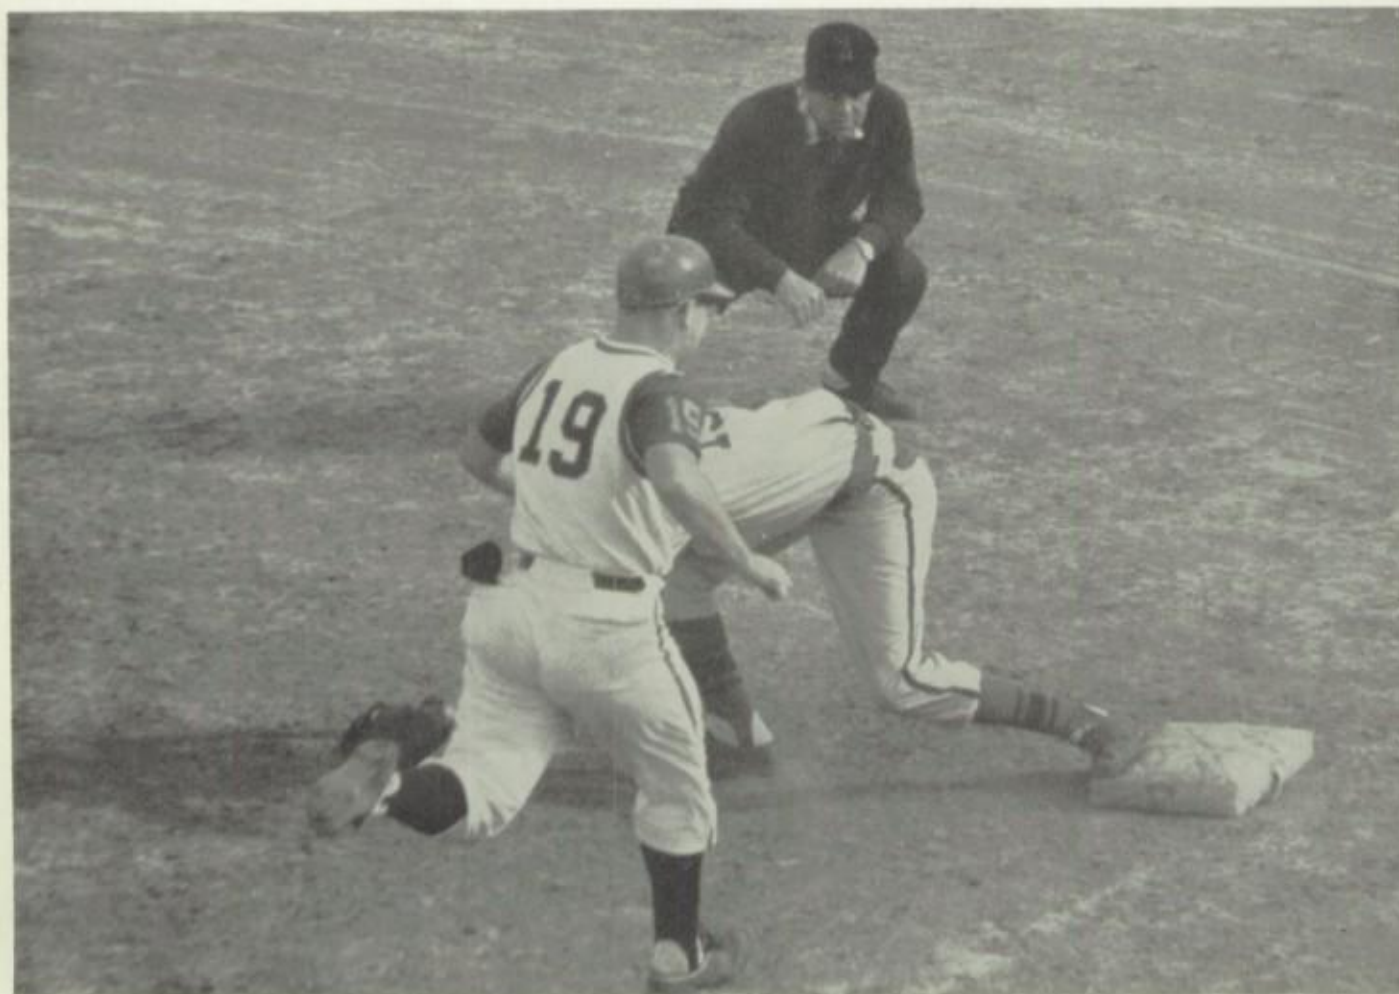

The turning point of what appeared to be the start of a long season came in the second week of May when the Bears met a five-game in five-day schedule. Beginning on Monday by topping Washington 4-0, the Bears swept through the week undefeated, ending with a 6-2 victory over Riley on Friday.

The final two games of the season proved to be the most important and most disappointing. The Bruins lost to Adams 1-0 and missed a chance for a second place tie in the conference standings. In the first game of the annual city tournament, Central was for the first time all season soundly beaten. They fell, 7-2, before St. Joseph.

Senior shortstop, George Gryzegorek, was elected team captain. Mike Otolski, outfielder and pitcher, was named the Most Valuable Player and was recipient of the coveted Kiwanis Award. The mound corps of Otolski, Ralph Komaskinski, and Gary Clarke, upon which Coach Newbold heavily relied, was graduated last year and will be sorely missed this spring.

BACK ON VICTORY PATH

When perennial track coach Jim Early left the ranks of Central's coaching staff, he left behind him an impressive 56-18 won-lost record and a large pair of coaching shoes for someone to fill. In his first year as head coach of the Bruins, it seems that Mr. Bill Gilkey has proven himself as an able and successful replacement. The 1963 version of Central's cindermen proved to be a strong and steady squad as they compiled a respectable 6-3 record. While there were no real standouts on the team, Mr. Gilkey felt each boy turned in consistently good performances throughout the entire season. In addition to their 6-3 record, the tracksters also copped 2nd place in the city meet and tied for 3rd spot in the conference. In view of the team's total performance during the year, Coach Gilkey termed this season as "better than expected" and remarked he was "very pleased" with it. Although the Bruins were without the services of such stalwarts as Tom McRae, Woody Freund, Fred Draper, and John Key, they nevertheless had a solid nucleus of eleven returning lettermen. Those returning this year to represent Central in track competition were Steve Mitchell, Lodis Rhodes, Jim Ward, Bobby Harris, and Dick Neher. In addition to these seniors, the Bruins had juniors Ray Johnson, Mike Martin, Duke Bailey, J. C. Chism, David Taylor and Jerry Ward.

ACTIVITIES

their advisor, Mr. Kuhny, meet frequently to introduce, discuss, and act upon new policies and projects.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A look of deep concentration is registered on the faces of the Student Council officers as they collaborate on another school project. Shown are: Richard Zimmerman, president; Sue Kristowski, secretary; Tom Wert, vice-president; and Helene Dermer, treasurer.

The Student Council has proven to be one of the most representative organizations at Central. For the first time in several years, a third political party successfully sponsored a candidate for office in president, Richard Zimmerman. A new system was initiated this year for underclass elections, making student government at Central a more democratic process. Along with the new innovations of this year, the Student Council continued its many functions of past years, including the Thanksgiving basket project, the student directory, and an annual clean-up campaign.

Two conscientious students make use of the new book drop, fulfilling the purpose for which it was installed by the Student Council.

Many families gratefully received this food collected for the Thanksgiving baskets distributed by the Student Council.

ENACTS NEW POLICIES

Realizing the importance of the time element in a debate, these members of the debate team try to stress an idea to the audience at the Student Council Freshmen Orientation Assembly which is given annually to the new freshmen at Central.

BOOSTER CLUB ROCKETS TO SUCCESS

This has been a banner year for the Central High School Booster Club. Directed by its president, Walt Webster, and its new sponsor, Mr. Dorwin Nelson, this year's Booster Club carries out its purpose by boosting all school activities. For the first time in recent years the Washington-Central basketball weekend was emphasized in an effort to make it equal in importance with the Adams-Central football weekend. Other activities were the purchase of a sound system for use by the Girls' Swimming Club and the publication of both a football and a basketball handbook.

Anticipating the coming game between Central and Adams, these loyal fans cheerfully roasted alive as they crowded around the Eagle-Bear bonfire.

Members of the 1963-64 Football Queen's Court were Barb Butler, Charles Smith, Susie Carr, Mike Jones, Judy VanGundy, Bob Dosmann, Carol Zimmerman, Chet Longnecker, Gwen Miller, Larry Cohen, Ruth Hilton, Gary Weinstein, Susie Kristowski, Mike Kaman, Nancy Moulder, Phil Levy, Sharon Rosewicz, and Vic Schulz.

Glowing with radiance, Gwen Miller reigned as queen at the football homecoming.

SENIORS ON ROYAL COURTS

Reigning over the basketball homecoming, Queen Andrea Paul bestows a royal smile upon her many admiring subjects.

Representing Central High School on the Basketball Queen's Court were Steve Mitchell, Barbara McMinn, Jon Moran, Pat Molenda, Walt Webster, Ellen Shimer, Tom Wert, Helene Dermer, Ron Martin, Andrea Paul, Jordan Frankie-wicz, Sandy Robaska, Fred Krueger, Genelle Hladkey, Robert Minnes, and Gwen Dickinson.

Sneak preview! Ruth Hilton, our exchange student, is shown in her home after completing her crown for the football Queen's Court of which she was an honorary member.

At the beginning of the school year, a young lady from London was introduced to the Central student body. Her name was Ruth Hilton, and she was a foreign exchange student under the American Field Service program. She soon became involved in many school activities. Ruth was an honorary member of the National Honor Society and a member of the football queen's court. She became a part of Central, and her return to England will be a loss to all Central students, but she will take with her memories of friends, teachers, and experiences of her visit.

A. F. S. BRINGS

of the American Field Service Executive Board spend much of their time learning about foreign countries to better foreign relations.

Highlighting the A.F.S. kickoff assembly was this talented quartet crooning in harmony to the delight of their listeners.

Enthusiasm shows clearly on the faces of these A.F.S.'ers as they take advantage of Open House to sell Christmas cards and cookbooks.

A BIT OF OLD ENGLAND TO CENTRAL

Personal contacts were very effective this year in collecting money for A.F.S. in order to bring another exchange student next year.

The goal of the American Field Service was $700, or enough money to bring one exchange student to Central next year. The kick-off assembly began a week long canister drive. This assembly was the debut for a group of folksingers with an original song describing the purpose of A.F.S.

The Centralites working for A.F.S. sold Christmas cards and cookbooks. The biggest sales campaign was held at Open House. The representatives, dressed in authentic foreign garb, added to the funds for A.F.S. by seeking contributions from visiting parents. A pop bottle drive was another money raising project during the year. The philosophy behind American Field Service is creditable, and the amount of $700 seems small when compared with the understanding and goodwill promoted by this organization.

The delegates to the Tiny Twenty in The Mouse That Roared were played by, Front Row: James Wiley, Debbie Garges, Tim Renner, Larry Kintz, Walter Tribble, Ruth Leubke, Terry Coddens, Kathy Hauser, and Joyce Ingram.

"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

Looking every bit like a mad scientist, Tim Renner contemplates his terrifying invention.

As the woodcutter, Gary Weinstein, looks in the distance while his son, Woodward Romine, and the Queen of the Duchy of Grand Fenwick, Terry Goltz, seem quite involved in each other.

The Barnstormer's first production of the year was The Mouse That Roared, a farcical satire on international relations and the cold war. The plot centered around the Duchy of Grand Fenwick, a tiny nation in the Alps which invaded the United States with twenty medieval longbowmen dressed in suits of armor. These long bowmen, of course, terrified the residents of New York City, who thought they were Martians.

A Winter's Tale, one of Shakespeare's later comedies, was done in conjunction with the English department and Senior Class. It was presented on an Elizabethan stage on the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth.

The activities of the Barnstormers were directed by the board. The first semester board consisted of Timothy Renner, chairman; Karlalea Cody, secretary; Adolphus Butler, Tom Carlson, Terri Goltz, Ruth Luebke, Carolyn Melander, Woodward Romine, James Rossow, Mimi Slick, John Wagner, and Mark West. The second semester the board remained the same, but Paula Gorrell and Mike Kaman were added.

The longbowmen in The Mouse That Roared were played by Woodward Romine, Carl Truett, Tom Carlson, Matthew Kingsberry, Charles Bryant, Michael Biber, Adolphus Butler, and James Wiley, on the stage, and Chris Frederick, Peter Theodosiou, Mike Ryder, Mark Shannon, Terry Cephus, and Terry Coddens, in the boat.

Nadja Palowski, James Panos, Terri Goltz, Mark West, and Karlalea Cody contemplate their plan for attacking the United States.

THEIR VOICES

Glee Club members, Front Row: F. Gildea, N. Boocher, N. Snyder, R. Luebke, P. Culp, M. J. Cripe, C. Bryant, B. Works, M. Joseph, T. Tiedge; Second Row: C. White, D. Doetsch, L. Newman, J. Snyder, K. Jenkins, M. Vanderveen, A. Hayes, B. Wilson,

Central students laid aside their homework and quietly listened. The Glee Club was once again performing and a wave of excitement swept over the stilled audience. This year the students heard selections from the Music Man, Call Me Madam, and Kiss Me Kate. At Christmas and Easter the 80 members of the Glee Club created an atmosphere of reverence and serenity.

The Glee Club did not limit its performance to the Central auditorium. The members also displayed their talents at the Indiana Club, St. Mary's College, the Pick-Oliver Hotel, and Madison and Muessel schools. This year the Glee Club was one of the most active organizations at Central.

Sing along with Mr. Chapman! Members of the Boys' Ensemble practicing are Clifford Townsend, Robert Crouch, Gordon Klockow, Bob Ernst, Bill Murrmann, and Walter Steinke.

ANOTHER

The officers and soloists of the orchestra are the stabilizing force of the organization. They are Marilyn Pegues, secretary; Carl Truett, soloist; Leonore Hardy, vice-president; Cathy Hardy, soloist; and Betty Orr, soloist.

Members of the orchestra are, Row I. E. Perez Delara, J. Stith, M. Pegues, A. Hayes, L. Hardy, M. Humnicky, E. Orr, C. Hardy; Row II: R. Britton, P. Williams, B. Allen, P. Cwidak, C. Chism, B. Halasz, R. Ades, J. Horton; Row III: F. Steiner, C. Paxson, J. Leatherman, F. Nixon, M. Katz, S. Brame, L. Schlundt, S. Eicher, C. Truett, S. Kirkum, B. Jenkins, L. Nemeth, D. Johnson; Row IV: J. Preston, D. Ernsberger, R. Klockow, P. Campbell, L. Paul, L. Harman, M. Berry, D. King, M. Carey, M. Elias. Missing: S. Woods, K. Price, K. Anderson, L. Warbington.

A good word to describe Central's orchestra is active. The members began their list of performances with the North Central Festival on October 24th and finished their program of events with the commencement exercises on June 4th. Directed by Mr. Zeal Fisher, the orchestra members displayed their talent during many concerts and contests. The orchestra played at the National Honor Society inductions and added a spirit of reverence to the ceremony. The busy members of the group presented both a spring and winter concert for the enjoyment of the student body, faculty, and parents. The orchestra also engaged in a money raising project by being in charge of the concession stands at the basketball games.

A new innovation this year is an All-City Orchestra composed of 105 members from all over the city. They presented a concert at the Morris Civic Auditorium on May 3rd. This group, of which Central is a member, conducted an exchange day with Evansville High School. The South Bend group played at several cities throughout the state.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR OF ORCHESTRA

Drum Major

Seventy-six trombones don't lead the Central band, but the job is done by a high stepping drum major named Walt Webster. In their entry onto the football field, at a concert in the auditorium, or a contest at Butler University, the Central band is an organized and capable group of musicians. The members are proud of the band's past achievements, and they strive continually for more.

The band has two smaller groups within it. They are the pep band and the dance band. Both serve their purposes well, for one adds spirit to basketball games, and the other group adds the enjoyment of popular tunes at assemblies and concerts.

EARLY MORNING MARCHES,

Row 1: Carl Truett, Walt Webster, Marsha Huff, Ellen Davis, Sally Eicher, Peggy Frazier, Sylvia Scott, Cindy Smith, Marianne DeCroes, Diane Barts, Linda Schlundt, Kristin Anderson. Row 2: Marilyn Lewis, Virginia Forrest, Linda Hojnacki, Linda Cary, Gretchen Strandhagen, Pamela Allen, David Galbraith, Norma Coppage, Kenneth Karkiewicz, Lana Paul, Priscilla Campbell, Lorraine Paul, Linda Harman, Leo Warbington, Theresa Malone, Shirley Weymon, Williana Mae field, Louis Lane, Barbara Wincek, Ellen Shimer. Row 3: Linda Wise, Karol Daron, Terri Cephus, Pamela Harden, Gail Neal, Judy Harris, Chris Stanley, Pamela Burger, Sherri Morin, Shirley Lee, Charles Bestle, Roger Wyatt, Carolyn Braboy, Phillip Jacobs, Kim Timmons, Matthew Kingsberry, Bud Strahla, Greg Johnson, David Fitterling, Gary Martin, Charles Ellison, Dennis Carter, John Oliver, John Frederick, Leonard Skinner, Gerry Hudson, Joyce Johnson, Pamela Peterson. Row 4: William Guy, Roland Klockow, Sharon Anderson, Michael Wendell, Vicki Fisher, Larry Kintz, Donn Ernsberger, David Nowak, Michael Stoltz, Michael Elias, Barry McCoy, Eddie Lark, Ann Likes, Larry Siple, Jerry Beatty, Deborah Kouts, Guy Madison, Dennis Wetter, Larry Shinner, Terry Young, Horace Denny, Robert Rankin, Robert Vernon, Ben Stoner, Doug King, Michael Carey, Don King, Michael Berry.

Extra spark was added to this year's bonfire and basketball games by Central's pep band. Swing it! "All they got!"

Adding a bit of spice to the half-time ceremonies are Linda Hojnacki, Priscilla Campbell, Lana Paul, Ellen Shimer, Lorraine Paul, Barbara Wincek, Kristin Anderson, Linda Schlundt, and Pam Allen.

Wherer, C. Smith.

Making the decisions for all the divisions of the Central Girls Club are these Executive Board members: Susie Kristowski, Miss Mathews

Central has done it again! Another first in the city is the Central Girls' Club which was formed this year. Girls in grades nine through twelve participate in four different groups. The Dance Club is sponsored by Mrs. Hunter and is for those interested in unusual folk, and modern dance. The Team Sports Club is sponsored by Miss Mathews. The girls in this group compete in volleyball and softball. Other girls in the city will compete with them. Miss Kruckel is in charge of the Bowling Club. These girls meet once a week at the Bowl-Mor to develop their bowling skill and to have fun.

sponsor; Sharon Renforth, secretary; Carol Herren, treasurer; Barbara West; Linda Yanez; Kathy Morris; and Wanda Welch, chairman.

The Swimming Club is for veteran or beginning swimmers and is just for fun. However, under the direction of Miss Mathews, the girls have done synchronized swimming and water ballet. The Varsity and B-Team Cheerleaders are also a part of the Girls' Club.

An executive board meets with Miss Mathews once a week. The representatives from the club are: Dance Club, Barbara West; B-Team Cheerleaders, Linda Yanez; Team Sports, Wanda Welch; Swim Club, Kathy Morris; Varsity Cheerleaders, Sue Kristowski; Bowling Club, Carol Herren; and Social Chairman, Sharon Renforth.

The members of the Team Sports Club are, First row: J. Harris, S. Gordon, F. Gamble, P. Scott, V. Gilbert, P. Coplen; Second row: J. Davis, A. Johnson, C. Claeys, H. Britton, W. Welch, D. Ellison, B. Our cheerleaders, Barbara McMinn; Gwen Miller; Nancy Moulder; Susie Kristowski, captain; Dorphine Hoston; Linda Witt; and our Central Bears, Jack Peffley and Ken Molinaro, energetically lead the student body at games.

"COME ON, LET'S YELL!!!"

You enter the gymnasium for a basketball game, and a bright splash of color greets you in the confusion. Don't panic! It is the orange outfits of Central's cheerleaders. You hear their familiar encouragement in, "Come on, everybody yell!"

The B-team cheerleaders, Peggy Woodard, Judy Labis, Peggy Prelepa, Judy Smith, Virginia Reed, Sandy Cohen in the first row and Linda Yanez, Carol Krueger, Ilona Fuzy, Sandy Haverstock, Marsha Mason, and Charlotte Watkins in the second row, spur the B-team to victory.

Anticipating many happy experiences, are the new members of the Tri Hi-Y Club, Lynn Kaser, Leslie Stevens, Carol Fiedler, Betty Erhardt, Carol Kruszewski, Dorothy Kobylarek, Elizabeth Davis, Norma Ewing, Francis Frisk. The officers who presided at the induction were Sharon Springer, Jacqueline Rau, and Darlene Rau.

CENTRAL CLUBS PROMOTE FRIENDSHIP

Under the leadership of John Gardner, president, the boys in the Hi-Y Club, Mike Elias, Jim Vancik, Greg Barth, Henry Martin, Paul Jeziorski, and Dennis Carter, plan the Veterans' Day assembly which they presented to the student body November 7

The Hi-Y is the male counterpart of the Tri-Hi-Y. This was a particularly active year for the Hi-Y with the climax coming with their Veteran's Day assembly. Their sponsor is Mr. Cantanzarite.

SERVICE STUDENTS

Taking time out from their busy schedule for a practice debate are Bill Beecher

The posters seen all over the school were made by the Art Service Club in an effort to remind Central students of the game this week, the Barnstormer's next play, or a Booster Club project. In November the club was given a respite from poster painting and visited the Chicago Art Institute.

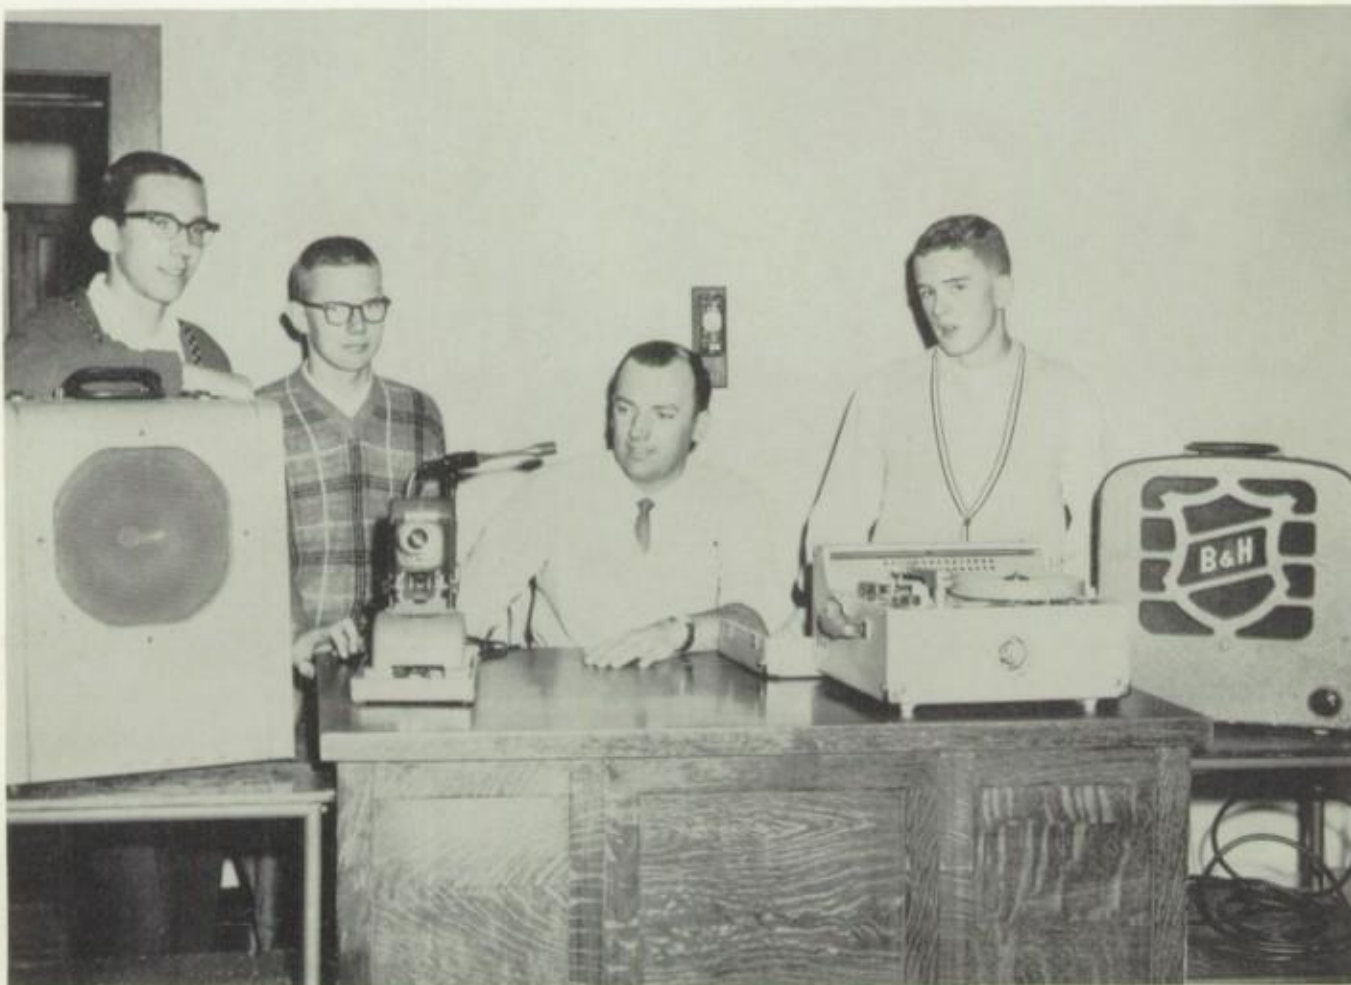

Mr. Madden needs a tape recorder and Mr. Taylor is showing a movie to his classes. Who will come to the aid of these teachers in distress? The Audio-Visual Club will again perform its duties by coming to the rescue.

team. The members travel throughout the state receiving laurels for their speaking ability. This ability in forensics enables the team to do an admirable job in representing Central High School.

The busy girls behind the check-out desk of Central's library are members of the Library Club. They also collect fines, assist in mending books, and arrange the books on the shelves. The library is run efficiently because of the combined efforts of Miss Larson and the girls in the club.

The Central High School Ushers Club, a hard-working and courteous group, help at athletic events, plays, assemblies, and many other school activities.

Members of the Ushers Club are, Kneeling: B. Erdes, T. Lass, H. Denny, J. Steinhoffer, K. Marosz, E. McDonald, T. Finnigan; standing are J. Waite, K. Hayes, M. Banicky, M. Maros, L. Palmer, C. Ratkiewicz, W. Jackson, R. Eisner, K. Miller, A. Williams.

CLUBS HELP STUDENTS

It will only hurt for a little while, Julie. These Future Nurses are getting experience which will be valuable to them later. These members are Gail Uldrich, Denice Trytko, and Julie Orban.

An active service organization at Central is the Future Health Careers Club. Under the leadership of Barbara Dupy, the club members have babysat at P.T.A. meetings, passed out pamphlets for the Counsel for the Retarded, contributed for a Christmas basket for the needy, and assisted in the sale of T.B. seals.

This year the Junior Izaak Walton League has made a serious effort to group installed bird feeders, has planted trees, and has gone on several field trips to the wildlife refuge of the South Bend Izaak Walton League.

Here the members of the Junior Isaac Walton League, Mike Glossinger, Sue Tarnacki, Bill Erdes, Agnes Milke, Larry Finnigan, Vicky Koper, Bonnie Beecher, Angela Hawkins, Carol Vandegendhte, Dixie Goheen, Jerry Munlin, and Greg Kush, look over various wild birds.

The Future Teachers Club secures information about the responsibilities, requirements, and duties of an educator. The club has had guest speakers from the various fields of teaching; Mr. Harter spoke on cadet teaching, a speaker from Morris School discussed the teaching of handicapped children, and Mr. Stephenson spoke on coaching.

These Future Teachers Club officers are Penny Nice, secretary; Nancy North, historian; Margo Kolecki, president; Priscilla Campbell, business manager; and Ken Molinaro, vice-president.

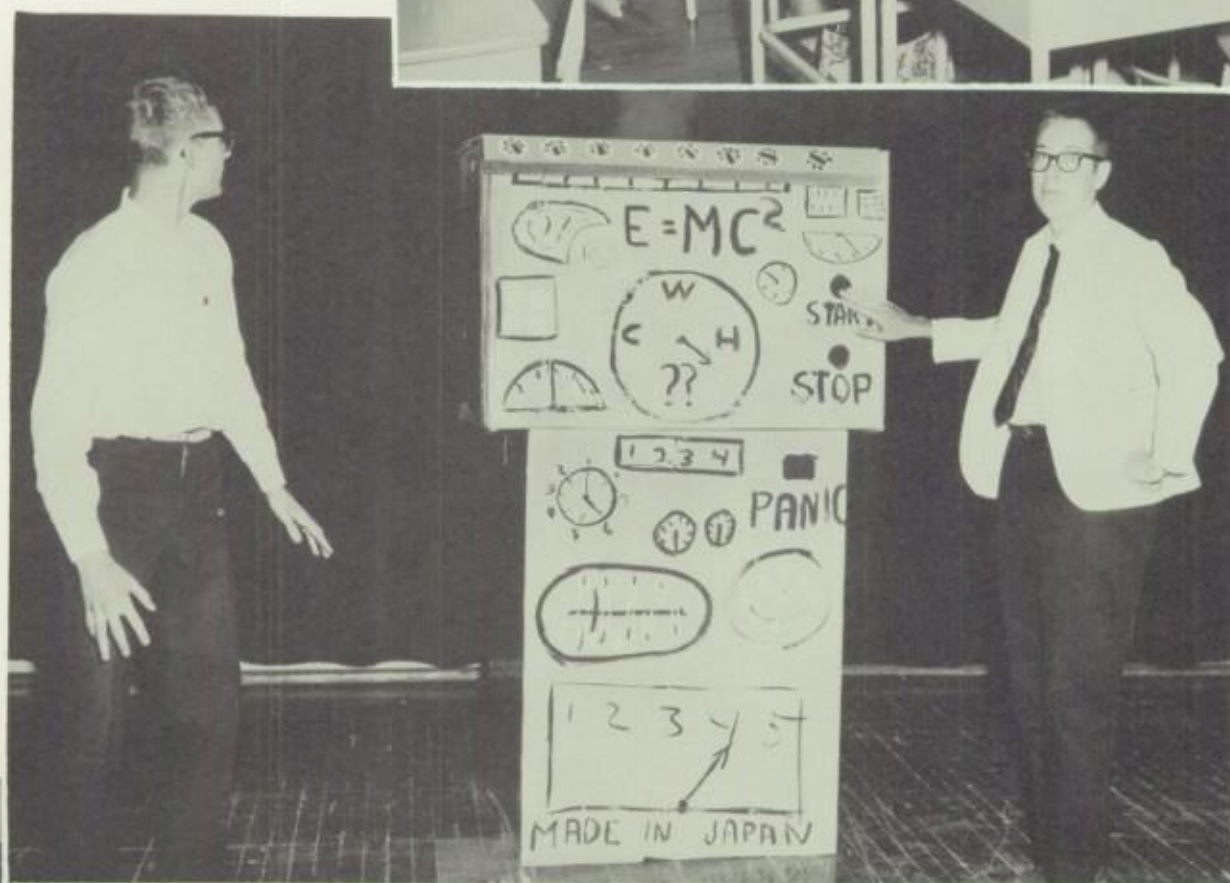

IN CAREER CHOICES

Much of the time of the German Club members, Anne Boehm, Christine Ellensberger, Bob Ernst, Marie Ellenberger, and Cathy Ciesiolka, is spent studying Germany.

Seeing slides of the Rhine River, viewing an authentic dirndl and listening to talks by visitors to Germany are some of the activities of the German Club. Its members are adept at singing German folk songs, with Mr. Govern accompanying them on the harmonica. Their melodies add a bit of authentic German atmosphere to 320.

The Junior Engineering and Technical Society, better known as the J.E.T.S., has a new advisor in Mr. Cox. The purpose of this society is to keep the young scientists and technicians at Central informed about the opportunities facing the scientists of tomorrow.

Mike Humnicky and Bill Beecher look with amazement at the machine the J.E.T.S. invented for the freshman orientation assembly.

Se abre la sesión. These words call the members of the Spanish Club to order. The group meets to gain additional knowledge of the Spanish culture. In addition to eating refreshments, the members play Password, Hangman, and sing songs, in Spanish, of course.

Explaining to Mr. Phelps how she wants to set up the picture is Caroline Spohnholz, activities section head. Marilyn Hertel, editor-in-chief, and Sharon Rozewicz, senior section head, make dummy pages while Chris Smith, head of underclass, organizes underclass pictures.

Publishing a true representation of the life of Central High School is the task of the Interlude yearbook. This year the staff has also sought to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of Central High School. To achieve this goal, copy was written and re-written, lay-outs planned and replanned, and pictures taken and retaken. The headaches are now gone and the anthology of school life is now in the hands of the Central student body.

"INTERLUDE": IMAGINATION AND WORK

Industriously working to meet their deadlines are section heads Barb Dupy, advertising; Phil Levy, sports; and Margo Kolecki, literary. Checking the subscription cards is Geri Hicks, head of business.

Why did we lose the game last week? Who got in the National Honor Society? What are the opinions of the students at Central? To answer these questions, and many others, one has only to look in the Interlude newspaper. It's amazing how many hours of reporting, planning, and scurrying go into the making of our outstanding newspaper. The Interlude is one of the most informative papers in the state.

STUDENTS READ THE NEWS OF THEIR WORLD

Looking very industrious, Mary Dhaene, Genelle Hladkey, Mimi Slick, and Maxine Solomon go over the financial situation.

This year, as editor of the newspaper staff, Pam Ogden has had much of the responsibility in producing our fine paper.

One of our most memorable times at Central, Cap and Gown Day, is being thoroughly enjoyed by these seniors, Hillary Jenkins, Wanda Welch, Diane Dietrich, and Chet Longenecker, who are eager to step out into life and pursue new opportunities.

WE LEAVE MUCH BEHIND,
BUT WE SEEK MORE AHEAD.

I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live by the light that I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong.

Today we are fashion-conscious too, as all of America is. Boys wear khakis, snap-tab collar white shirts and cordovan loafers, while girls dress in short skirts, shifts and stacked heels. Boys wear flattops, and girls use rollers to get a smooth, poofy effect in hairdos. We are still striving for new ideas, new ways of doing things. We still have a mind of our own.

So, we see that Central has not really changed much. True, Central is no longer "adequate to the needs of the city," as we have five high schools now, but it still sparkles with newness and life. It has cases full of trophies on both sides of the hall, and is foreseeing many more. Central has gained a stained glass window and $15,000 in class gifts. So what shall we, the 1,881 students of 1964, leave as our heritage? What shall we do to be remembered? We have already done something. We have gone to Central, learned from its teachers, attended its assemblies; we have been a part of its school spirit. We have left a little of ourselves here, but we have gained so much more in exchange. The statues and the frieze that have stood for fifty years are still standing and still observing. May the motto of Central ever ring in our hearts, "I will keep faith." Faith in what? Faith in God, Faith in others, and Faith in ourselves. We are strengthened by our knowledge, comforted by our friends, and energized by our hope. We will keep faith.

To a cute and fun loving girl, remember before always and wish you the best of luck always.
Ann

To Ann
Best of luck to a real lasting girl. Keep that smile and witty humor always. Remember
H.R. 31 and our swimming class.
Dempsey

To Ann
A real sweet girl. It has been a pleasure
knowing you.
Remember the good times we had and remember in your next year.
A good luck in your future years.
Love ya!
Bernita H.

To Ann
The girl that was always trying to get a boy. I hope you find a good thing and Maddie

Joan to a wonderful friend with a sense of humor and a sense of responsibility to the world. Had you the best in what ever you have to offer
 Love
